IN THE BEE TO-DAY

WEATHER INDICATIONS.

U. S. Department of Agriculture, Weather Bureau.
Toledo, O., April 26, 1892.

The area of high pressure is north of the lakes and is attended by fair and cool weather throughout the lake region, though the temperature has generally risen.

In the northwest the weather is cloudy and unusually warm, with rain over a large area; at Moorhead 1.10 inch. was reported for the last 24 hours.

The effects of this storm has been felt at Duluth, the only place where rain is falling Tuesday morning in the lake region, but Wednesday the storm will advance sufficiently east to cause generally cloudy, warmer weather, with rain in the lake region.

Local forecast for Toledo and vicinity—Fair to-day, followed by rain to-morrow, warmer, east to southeast winds.

C. H. HANNER, Observer.

Indiana—Fair, followed by showers to-night; warmer; winds becoming southeast.

Illinois—Showers; southeast gales.

Ohio—Generally fair; slightly warmer; easterly winds.

Michigan—Generally fair, followed by showers to-night; slightly warmer; winds becoming southeast.

Wisconsin — Showers; southeasterly winds.

No body advertises that his blood medicine doesn't amount to much. They're all of them "the best." But there's only one of them that's good enough to guarantee — and that is Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. With that, if it fails to benefit or cure, in any case, you have your money back.

It's a medicine that cures, in all diseases caused by a torpid liver or impure blood. It's not like the sarsaparillas, which claim to do good in March, April, and May. All the year round, with equal benefit, it cleanses, invigorates, and builds up the entire system. If you're bilious, "run-down," or dyspeptic, or suffering from any blood-taint or disorder, that's the medicine you need. For the worst forms of Scrofula, and in the most stubborn Skin and Scalp Diseases, such as Salt-rheum, Tetter, Eczema, Erysipelas, and all kindred ailments, nothing can equal it as a perfect and permanent remedy. The genuine sold for $1.00. Beware of spurious imitations or dilutions, offered at less prices.

CLANS GATHERING

For the Republican Battle in Cleveland.

The Advance Guard Already on Hand

To Pave the Way for the Machine Methods

Which are the Rule in the Party of Harrison.

Combinations Being Made and Wires Being Arranged to Fix Up a Fight That Will Live as Long as Sherman Does.

Staff Correspondence Toledo Bee.

Cleveland, April 26.—Once more are the republican hosts of Ohio gathering for a fray, and evidences observable on every hand indicate that it will be a fray indeed and in truth. "Under which King?" appears to be the question asked almost without words when two of the faithful meet on the streets, and on its answer depends the peace and happiness of the parties within hearing distance.

For some unaccountable reason the Sherman-Foraker fight broke out afresh in the choice of delegates to this convention, and why such was the case no one is able to tell. Like the boy asked to explain himself for committing some mischief, the reply usually comes, "because." So it seems as if "because" would be about as intelligent an answer as can be gained from those who are on the ground.

Complaint is first made on the part of the people that it is the Shermanites who have precipitated the trouble. They maintain with some vehemence that they were willing to call quits when the senatorial fight ended at Columbus last winter, but the contest was no sooner closed than the lease of Sherman headquarters was renewed at the Neil house, and while Foraker's friends went about their business the senator's quietly set about laying the ropes which culminated last Saturday in the discomfiture of the ex-governor in so many counties of the state. Since this spirit was manifested, the claim is put forth that honor—honor, sah—must be maintained, and though defeat may come, and it can be said it is expected, it is none the less war to the knife and the knife to the hilt.

This talk is quite refreshing to democrats, who will rejoice if it is carried into action. But there's the rub. There is considerable talk, but it is mere wind. Violent threats are uttered as to what will be accomplished in the future "if things don't go our way," etc. The old and foxy politicians laugh, however, at these cracks of the kids, who if they hope to even be recognized, must pull in their horns in due season, get aboard, and move off in the band wagon.

A great many fellows also, are securing a recognition by reason of this scrimmage, who would never have been heard of and who would sink into oblivion at once did they not cry out, almost on the housetops, what great Foraker men they are. It does not need much of an eye of discernment to notice that the Sherman followers are not of the kid style to any great extent, but, on the contrary, quite the reverse.

There's our own Charley Foster, Gen. Grosvenor, Judge Thompson, Mark Hanna, Gen. Gibson, the Tafts, Maj. Bickham, Col. Markbreit, Tom McDougall, John W. Warrington, Col. Poorman, and coming along to Toledo the master hand of Col. Waldorf, Postmaster Brown, Gen. Kountz, Horace Walbridge and other equally big guns are always at the helm, with Bill Hahn, Sam Flickinger and a host of others setting up pins wherever necessary.

Against this combination are to be found Eb Poe, Charley Kurtz, Charley Griffin and a posse of lesser lights, who are noted largely for the noise they make rather than the work accomplished.

As the boys put it the Shermanites can give the Foraker followers cards and spades and beat them at the game.

And this fact will be developed before the present convention closes. A pin can be stuck right here until the verification follows.

Interest appears not to be so much in the state ticket to be nominated as it does in the combination which is to be denominated Ohio's big four at Minneapolis. There are many Sherman men who have been willing for some weeks to say that Mr. Foraker would be one of the delegates, but the fight of the past 10 days has led some to recant, and there is no telling what may be the result.

That there are sufficient votes in the convention to down him if necessary almost goes without saying, but whether it will be done will largely depend on what takes place before Wednesday night or Thursday morning. Argument is heard everywhere that the time has come to put a stop to idol worship in the republican ranks, and compel such followers to be for the party instead of the man. The gentlemen who talk this way do not stop to relate what else there is of the party, under present conditions, but this omission is excused possibly because of their enthusiasm.

Consultations are going on continually between the leaders of both sides, and it is more than probable there will be four candidates representing each faction placed in nomination, and should this prove to be the case, the announcement can safely be made that Sherman will come under the pole several lengths ahead of his opponents.

The greatest laugh all around is about the candidacy of the present state auditor, Hon. Ebenezer W. Poe. It is regarded very much in the nature of a good-sized joke. He moves around with that pleasing countenance which he wore when smiling upon the people hoping the governor's nomination would drop into his lap instead of Major McKinley's. Eb has grown to be quite large since leaving Bowling Green, and now, by reason of the fact of hanging on to Foraker's coattail he has won some friends he never could have secured on his own hook, his strut is that of a very big man. The newspaper boys are much to blame for the swell of the head, as when news has been rather scarce, they have dropped in on Poe, and, just mentioning that they would like a word on some topic, he immediately starts his stenographer and type-writer at work, and the result is an interview a yard long. When it comes to a question of modesty, Mr. Poe loses his grip. He may be announced to the convention, but it will be surprising indeed if he gets enough votes to make them worth counting.

Many names are suggested for delegate, including Secretary Foster, Governor McKinley, Wm. M. Hahn, Gen. Grosvenor and Mark Hanna, on the Sherman side, while Governor Foraker, Gen. Bushnell, Representative Griffin, Auditor Poe, Col. Conger, Mayor Mosby and others of the opposition are talked of, but, as stated above, this is gossip, which can be taken for what it is worth until a decision is reached.

The three candidates for secretary of state—S. M. Taylor, of Champaign; B. S. Wydman, of Hamilton, and J. J. Chester, of Franklin—have been here since Sunday night. Their chances for nomination are about in the order given. Mr. Taylor is undoubtedly in possession of the Sherman favor, and if the lines are drawn in the convention he will be named. In fact, in any event, it looks like Taylor. He has been chairman of the house finance committee, is a ready debater, and has friends.

Mr. Wydman's candidacy comes simply because of his being from Hamilton county, and since he is in line with the controlling element of that part of the state, he anticipates success. He is regarded as the Foraker caididate since he cast his vote for that gentleman in the senatorial caucus and was one of his staunchest supporters. This looks like an element of weakness just now. Mr. Wydman is a moulder by trade, but it is some years since he did anything at the business, having been a member of the house for three terms besides having his finger in the local pie at different times. He is a clever gentleman just the same.

John J. Chester is from Columbus, but has not the support of his county. Chester's strength is expected to come from the representatives of the league clubs, but the clubs are not running this convention. Mr. Squire, of Toledo, was for a time hustling for Chester, but since the latter found it necessary to deny he was training with that gentleman, it is said Squire quit him cold. He will not cut much of a figure in the convention, so many delegates say.

As at all conventions, there are dark horses, this one is no exception. Senator Hildebrand, of the Richland-Ashland district, has his pole up, hoping that if the fight grows hot, it may come his way. In his biography being used, it is given out that he is at heart a Foraker man, though his constituents compelled him to vote for Sherman.

Judge Spear, of Warren, will be renominated to succeed himself for supreme judge. For the second place, made by the McConica bill increasing the number of judges to six and dividing them into two courts, there is quite a scramble. If Sherman's friends conclude to run the convention on their own hook, ex-Congressman A. C. Thompson, of Portsmouth, will be the man. If not, there is no ground for prediction. Hancock county will present Jacob F. Burket, and by the way a lively canvass is being made for him. Huron county is for S. A. Wildman of Norwalk. This in itself splits the northwest, and lessens chances for the nomination. Then it is more than half expected that Lucas county may conclude to present Alex. W. Scott, and if such is the case, Thompson will have a cinch. There are a half dozen other candidates, including Judge McElroy, of Delaware.

U. H. Hester, of Van Wert, has the third term fever, and wants to be renominated for supreme court clerk. Capt. J. B. Allen, of Athens, is in the field also. Hester is a good mixer, and this feature counts.

A number of gentlemen want to be nominated for the board of public works. Park Alexander, of Akron, is putting some of that push for which he is noted into his canvass, and his chances are more than fair. Capt. Lybarger is his leading competitor. The colored republicans are making a show of fight for Jere Brown, of Cleveland, but a colored man will not be allowed on the ticket.

If predictions are permissible on the state ticket, this one may go for to-day:

Secretary of State—S. M. Taylor, of Champaign.

Supreme Judge—W. J. Spear, of Trumbull.

Additional member—A. C. Thompson, of Scioto.

Supreme Court Clerk—U. H. Hester, of Van Wert.

Board of Public Works—J. Park Alexander, of Summit.

Ante-Convention Notes.

Who for Minneapolis is discussed much more than who shall go on the state ticket.

Lucas county's delegates are expected this evening.

All the republican members of the legislature are on deck.

District meetings occur Wednesday morning at 11 o'clock.

The hotels are filling up with the elect, "to hear them tell it."

"Coxie, Old Boy," of Cincinnati, is the biggest toad in the puddle.

Most of the candidates have headquarters at the Forest City house.

Mr. Griffin is credited with ability to run the Lucas delegation. How is that, Col. Bonner?

Looks like Governor McKinley for permanent chairman, and Johnny Malloy for Secretary.

Ex-Secretary of State Dan Ryan smiles about the hotels as usual at republican conventions.

It's dollars to pennies that the next state committee will not be controlled by Foraker's friends.

State committeemen are living at the Stillman, but have headquarters at the Forest City house.

State Auditor Poe has a time of it explaining that brass band story at Bowling Green last week.

There is one fault to be found—the district places for meeting are scattered over too much territory.

Speaker Laylin, of Norwalk, is hard at work for his fellow-townsman, S. A. Wildman, for supreme judge.

The Ninth district, in which Toledo is located, meets in district assembly in parlor A of the Kennard.

There is some anxiety to know just what Hon. C. P. Griffin, the temporary chairman, will say in his speech.

Convention will be held at Music hall, where the last democratic state gathering convened. It is a fine hall.

Of course the newspaper man is out in full force, and is being properly cared for by their brethren of the press.

One of the liveliest workers for Hester on the ground is G. L. Marble, of Van Wert, who was formerly of Toledo.

Gen. Bushnell, of Springfield, has sent word he will not be a candidate for delegate-at-large. A case of sour grapes.

Wm. Capellar is not as big a man as he once was in republican councils. The Sherman people have frozen him out; he is not even a delegate.

Talk is general in condemnation of the action of the state central committee in turning down Gov. McKinley for temporary chairman.

Bill Hahn, as usual, is figuring up estimates as to the result of the convention votes. William is a great figurer. He wants to go to Minneapolis as the representative of Senator Sherman.

Judge King, chairman of the state central committee, is credited with having a new speech to spring on the convention in introducing Statesman Griffin. King wants to go to congress in the old McKinley district.

SWEPT BY A CYCLONE

A Terrible Storm Has Passed Over Canada.

Houses Carried Miles Into the Woods.

Many People Injured and Only the First Reports of the Disaster are Beginning to Arrive.

Belleville, Ont., April 26.—A report has reached here of a destructive cyclone which visited the northern townships of Hastings county, leaving widespread ruin in its wake. The force of the storm was most severely felt in the townships of Carlow, Mayo and Mount Eagle.

Thomas Ebo, of Mount Eagle, and James Robinson had their buildings blown down, killing part of their stock. Louis Lavec's barn was carried away and torn to pieces and Alfred Armstrong's house was demolished.

Parts of the building were carried over a mile and deposited in the woods. Even their clothing, which was packed in trunks was carried across into the woods. Pieces of the trunks were subsequently seen, but nothing more. Their bedclothes were torn to pieces and carried away. They lost everything they owned.

Armstrong was away from home. His wife and children were in the house when the door blew open and all ran to shut it, which act saved their lives. Just as they were trying to close the door the whole building was carried away. The children got off with only a few scratches. The cyclone passed through Carlow about six miles wide and swept everything before it. No further particulars have been learned, although greater damage is supposed to have been done.

THEY TURNED HIM DOWN

Foraker Knocked Out in Defiance.

Shermen Men Chosen to Go on Guard at the Minneapolis Convention.

Defiance, O., April 26.—(Special)—The Fifth district republican convention is over and the Foraker men are whipped. Not a single scheme of the followers of Joseph worked, nor did any of their men obtain a show.

The fight was all over before 2 o'clock, the time set for the convention, and the nominations were made exactly as foretold in the Bee of yesterday.

The delegates from Defiance and Paulding were worshipers at the shrine of St. Joseph, with C. J. Thompson, of the Defiance Republican Express, as spiritual adviser. He proved to be a false prophet and the Forakerites now wander in the wilderness, while the disciples of John the Schemer are in sight of the promised land.

ASSAULTED BY TRAMPS.

Wooster, April 26.—An 18-year old boy was found near the Ft. Wayne depot late Saturday night nearly dead from loss of blood and wearing only a pair of pants and a shirt all covered with blood. He gave his name as Emil Gerouw, of No. 358 Grand avenue, Chicago. To the police officers he stated that he had stepped from a west-bound freight train when he was assaulted by five tramps, who beat him into insensibility and then took his purse, shoes, hat, coat and vest.

SALOONISTS FINED.

Massillon, O., April 26.—Saloonists Albright Kessler, Simon F. Wefler, Gust Markin, Dick Powell, Jacob Culberson and Frank Dornhaeker were each fined $50 and costs for keeping their places open Sunday.

RESIDENCE BURNED.

Bellevue, O., April 26.—The residence of Mr. Frank Baughman was destroyed by fire. Loss, $1,500; no insurance.

GROWING BOLDER

Followers of Ravachol Want Revenge.

M. Very, the Man Who Caused His Arrest,

Has Been Made a Target by Anarchists.

Badly Injured by a Dynamite Explosion.

Open Threats of Lynching are Made on the Streets of Paris and Any Day May Bring Forth Terrible Bloodshed.

Paris, April 26.—The greatest excitement reigns to-day over the dynamite outrage of last night and for the first time in many years threats of lynching are freely uttered in the streets. Mr. Very was the man who caused the arrest of Ravachol, and last night his place was dynamited by the anarchists and the proprietor seriously injured.

Among the respectable classes fear and apprehension have given way to an angry and desperate feeling and should the law spare Ravachol or his accomplices it is probable that the people themselves may put an end to the wretches. The general sentiment is that a state of war exists between society and the anarchists and that the latter must be crushed like venemous snakes.

M. Very, proprietor of the restaurant in which Ravachol was arrested, is still living. He is in a critical condition and the doctors hardly dare to express a hope of his recovery.

It appears that yesterday M. Very received another threatening letter. A few days ago M. Very had already received so many threatening letters that he intimated his intention of leaving Paris and betaking himself to some spot where he was not known.

He was in a very nervous state and was convinced that sooner or later an attempt would be made to kill him and his family.

During the past few days he has been in search of a room not for business purposes, but simply as an abode, and he has been unable to find one. M. Very told the police on Sunday that he was utterly disgusted, but that he would not fail in his duty if it had to be done all over again.

His brother-in-law, M. L'Herot, also received a number of threatening letters.

Policemen continue to keep guard over houses inhabited by members of the magistracy who have been marked by the anarchists for vengeance.

It is affirmed to-day, however, that notwithstanding the precautions adopted by the government for the protection of the government officials, dynamite cartridges such as are used in mines were found near the residences of two law officers in the Rue de Lille.

The matter has been kept secret at the prefecture of police and in the meantime the houses are being more strictly guarded than ever.

At Lyons yesterday a cardboard box bearing the inscription "Club of anarchists and starved people. Down with the bourgeoise was found on the steps of the hotel DeVille. The article was opened by a police commissary. It contained a dangerous looking substance which was sent for analysis to the municipal laboratory.

In view of the threats against M. Quesnay de Boureparie, the prosecutor general, everybody who calls at his house is attentively examined before he is permitted to ascend the staircase. Even the secretaries of some of the juges d' instruction are applying for protection for themselves and their families.

A prominent anarchist who does not himself approve of the use of dynamite is represented as having just remarked that more explosions were to be expected in different countries.

The party was carrying on its campaign against society with more energy than ever. It was true that individual members did not act in obedience to orders received from their leaders, but there was a kind of instinct which drove them on to make their power felt suddenly and at once in England, Germany, France, Italy and Spain. The idea is gaining ground that the militant anarchists will be daunted by the punishment of Ravachol and his companions.

It is supposed that there are now in Paris from three to four thousand men who are either active and outspoken anarchists or are secretly affiliated to the dangerous sect which sent forth the dynamiters on their deadly errands. Forty foreign anarchists have been sent out of France, but there are still about 400 Spaniards and Italians in the district of La Chapelle who are ready to continue the work of their expelled brethren in propogating theories of revolution.

The largest number of anarchists are to be found in the Pantheon district. They meet in a hall in the Rue Mouffetard, where Blanqui, the communist, had his headquarters of old, and they are said to be 200 strong.

Next comes the neighborhood of the Central Markets, where the two groups called the "Insomnis" and the "Trimardeurs," number 150. Near Peare La Chaise there are groups forming in all 110 anarchists, while the roquette quarter comes next with 100; the Gobelins following with 90. The others are scattered in various parts of the city and suburbs.

In the midst of the general apprehension the authorities note with satisfaction that at a banquet of 1,500 workmen which has just been held at Nimes, speeches were delivered severely censuring these appeals to violence, the prevailing sentiment being that they should endeavor to improve their lot by fair means and not commit crimes at the behest of a few ambitious demagogues.

From evidence gathered this morning the police believe that the perpetrators of the outrage at Very's restaurant were three men and three women who dined at the restaurant last night. One of the men carried a parcel. The three women went out before the men and one of the men lighted a cigar. After lighting the cigar he held it under the table as if to escape the fumes. Then the three men went out in a hurry and were seen running away a short time after they had left the restaurant.

MR. WARD'S TIME IS UP

To be Released from Prison Saturday.

The Great Napoleon of Finance to Enter the World Once More and Start Anew.

New York, April 26.—Ferdinand Ward, whose financial operations in the firm of Grant & Ward caused such a stir a few years ago, will be liberated from Sing Sing next Saturday. There is still an indictment against him in the United States court, but it will probably not be acted upon.

COLUMBUS NOTES.

Bids for the Ohio Building at the Fair—New Corporations.

Columbus, April 26.—The bids for constructing the Ohio state building for the World's Columbian exposition were opened to-day in the office of architects Packard & Yost, in the presence of the building committee, L. N. Bonham, chairman of the executive committee, and Commissioner Ryan. The bids are as follows: Sculley & Co., Cincinnati, $30,904; Wm. Harley & Son, Chicago, $24,465; R. Erhart & Co., Chicago, $24,500; Young & Ewers, $27,560; J. A. McGonigle, Chicago, $31,443; A. Dawson, Toledo, $25,330. The bid was let to Harley & Son, Chicago. This firm has the contract for building the Illinois building, and is expert in the construction of exposition buildings. The furnishing of the different rooms of the Ohio building will be undertaken by the different cities in the state, and much of the material will be furnished by enterprising firms of Ohio.

The following articles of incorporation were filed in the office of the secretary of state to-day: The J. D. Stewart company, Springfield, capital stock $30,000; the Thurman club, Dayton; the Eagle White Lead company, Cincinnati, increase of capital stock from $100,000 to $500,000; the Cleveland Molding Manufacturing company, Cleveland, capital stock $25,000; the Ohio Central Coal and Ore Transfer company, Columbus, capital stock $10,000.

KNOCKED CLEAR OUT.

A Prize Fight that Did Not Last Very Long.

New York, April 23.—At Niblo's last night Muldoon announced that William Gabig, of Philadelphia, known as the mysterious boxer, would meet C. C. Smith, the Washington thunderbolt, in four rounds of three minutes each.

The colored fellow hammered the fat on Gabig's ribs and slammed him on the head until the mysterious wished he were in Philadelphia. He managed to hang on till the referee said time, when he sank into his chair.

Gabig came up very slowly for the second round and soon went down. The crowd yelled "That's enough, take him off," whereupon the referee pointed at the thunderbolt to indicate that he was the winner and the mysterious boxer was carried out like a bag of potatoes.

THEY WILL PULL TOGETHER

Ancient Order of Hibernians to Unite.

The American Board and the Board of Erin to Patch Up all Past Differences.

St. Paul, Minn., April 26.—The Ancient Order of Hibernians is divided into two sections—the American board, and the board of Erin—the split being of some years' standing. The board of Erin is the original order of Hibernians in Ireland, and the American board is the offshoot in America.

For a number of months past efforts have been made to bring the two factions together, so that all may move together under one banner.

In Ireland the two factions are moving for unity, and in several parts of the United States they have formed a complete union.

A few days ago the American board here appointed a committee to confer with a like committee from the board of Erin, and yesterday the board of Erin held a meeting and appointed its committee of conference.

Later the two committees held a session, and after some discussion adjourned to Thursday evening when, it is believed, all the differences will be settled for good.

Nearly all the leaders of the trouble are now dead and their successors have not cherished any of the bitterness they engendered.

NOTES FROM NORWALK.

News Mention Gathered by a Bee Correspondent.

Norwalk, O., April 26.—(Special)—Erastus Ivory, one of the oldest and best known residents in this city, died Monday evening.

Geo. F. Randolph, a Norwalk born and bred young man, who has been general freight agent of the New York & New England railroad, has just been made assistant general freight agent of the great Philadelphia & Reading system.

Ed. O'Donnell, who has been a baggage master on the W. & L. E. road, has been promoted to be baggage master at the union depot in Wheeling. Ed is another Norwalk boy who has earned his promotion.

Eminent Sir W. T. McLean, of Sidney, O., was in the city last night and inspected Norwalk Commandery K. T. After the work of the commandery, which included the conferring of the order of the Temple on a prominent Oberlin business man, Sir McLean was tendered a grand banquet. The distinguished visitor is secretary of the state board of public works.

T. D. Shepherd of this city has been chosen chairman of the republican county executive committee and James G. Gibbs, of the Reflector, secretary.

TO REMAIN IN RIVERSIDE

Gen. Grant's Remains Will Not be Moved.

The Senate Committee Listens to the Wishes of the Widow of the Dead Hero.

New York, April 26.—A special to the Herald from Washington says the movement to transfer the body of General Grant from New York to the national cemetery at Arlington has substantially come to an end.

The senate committee on military affairs determined, after the death of Senator Plumb, to ascertain postively the views of the Grant family before acting on the resolution introduced by the Kansas senator.

It was found that Mrs. Grant would rather have the body of her husband remain where it is than have a contest in congress over its removal.

This fact, taken in connection with the renewed activity of the managers of the monument fund, decided the committee to drop the resolution and leave the body of General Grant in Riverside park.

JUDGE KING MAY GET IT.

Youngstown, April 26.—Reports received from the congressional primaries held in Columbia county indicate that the 67 delegates will be divided between Judge King, of this city, and William Monaghan. The latter is a warm personal and political friend of Judge King, and if there is no chance for him on the first ballot it is believed King will secure the solid delegation from Columbiana county.

THE ROMANTIC PART ENDED.

Upper Sandusky, O., April 26.—Harriet Hickle, of Carey, has been granted alimony in the sum of $50 from her husband John. The parties were married on the fair grounds in this city last fall by Gen. W. H. Gibson, of Tiffin, before a crowd of 10,000 people. They received nearly a carload of presents.

WILLIAM ASTOR IS DEAD

He Left Sixty Millions Behind Him.

The Drayton Affair a Heavy Blow for Him.

With One Exception the Richest Man in America Has Gone to the Great Unknown Beyond.

New York, April 26.—William Astor died in Paris last night. He is next to his nephew, William Waldorf Astor, probably the richest citizen of America, his wealth being recently estimated at $60,000,000. He was a brother of the John Jacob Astor who died February 22, 1890.

William Astor had been in poor helath for some time, and is said to have been greatly worried over the Borrowe-Fox-Milbank scandal, in which his daughter, Mrs. Drayton, was involved. The cause of his death is said to have been heart failure.

The late John Jacob Astor, the brother of William, also died from this cause. The deceased leaves one son and two married daughters, John Jacob Astor, his son, was married to Miss Willing, of Philadelphia, a little more than a year ago. His wife has long been prominent in New York society and has held for many years the undisputed place of its leader. His daughter, Mrs. Orme Wilson, is also prominent in society.

While William Astor was very wealthy he was not reputed to be nearly so opulent as his elder brother John Jacob, whose estate descended to the present William Waldorf Astor. The disparity in their fortunes was the result simply of inheritance. Their father, William B. Astor, who inherited the bulk of the original John Jacob's money, invested it in real estate and left two thirds of it to his elder son and one-third to William.

The deceased, who, during the life of his father, was completely overshadowed by him, has always remained more or less in the background so far as public prominence was concerned.

For many years the influence of his wife in society matters has been all powerful and she has been the sole arbiter of the fate of those who sought to gain admittance to the inner circles.

THEY HAD A FIGHT.

Officers and Marauders Exchange Shots in Arkansas.

Camden, Ark., April 26.—Yesterday at Smackover, a few miles south of here, a running fight occurred between a sheriff's posse and a gang of marauders, who Sunday night had fired into a negro woman's cabin, wounding her in the arm.

The party of night riders rode towards Camden after their depredations, and the posse overtook them at Smackover at noon, where they had stopped for dinner.

At the sight of the officers they ran, but the posse fired at them, seriously wounding one of the band. The others escaped, but will be captured.

HAVE CROSSED THE CHANNEL

Dynamiters Getting a Foothold in England.

The Outrages in Paris Have Caused the London Authorities to Keep on Their Guard.

London, April 26.—The outrage in Paris has stirred the authorities here to increased activity.

It has come to the knowledge of police officials that 27 persons who are believed to be connected with the gang of anarchists to which the outrages in Paris are attributed, have landed in England.

Seventeen are suspected of having been directly associated with Ravachol, and it is supposed they were under his command, and participated either as scouts or as the actual persons who assisted in placing the dynamite bombs in the outrages. It has further come to the knowledge of the police that many of these persons are now in hiding in various midland towns, whence, it is believed, further operations on the continent will be directed.

UPPER SANDUSKY

Jurors Drawn for the Coming June Term of Court.

Upper Sandusky, April 26.—(Special)—The following grand and petit jurors for the June term of court were drawn today:

WAR ON SUNDAY SALOONS.

Findlay, April 26.—Under the instructions from the new republican mayor, the city police began their warfare on violators of the Sunday saloon closing ordinances.

Three arrests were made, the circumstances in each case being such as to render conviction certain. The offenders were each fined $25 and costs and sentenced to 10 days in jail.

THEY ARE FIGHTING AGAIN

Another Battle Reported in Venezuela.

Palacio's Forces are Deserting Him and Going Over to the Insurgents.

New York, April 26.—A special cable dispatch to the Herald from Maracaibo, Venezuela, says another battle has occurred between the government's forces and the insurgents, and again the latter were victorious.

This fight occurred in the plains near Valencia. Details of the losses on both sides have not yet been received.

A large number of desertions occurred from Palacio's troops during the battle.

The uprising is assuming a more serious aspect day by day, and the insurgents are slowly but surely drawing closer and closer toward the capital.

FOUR DAYS MORE

DURING WHICH PATIENTS CAN AVAIL THEMSELVES OF THE NOTABLE OFFER OF DRS. COPELAND AND BELL.

At the Outset of the Season, Favorable for Treatment of Catarrhal Troubles, They Will Give Two Weeks' Medicine and Treatment Free to All, Old and New Patients.

All Patients Applying Before May 1st Will be Treated Free for Two Weeks, and Receive All Medicine Free.

The season most favorable for the treatment and cure of Catarrhal Troubles is that included in the late spring and summer months. After the severities of winter have passed away, the climatic conditions are favorable. The liability to catching cold is decreased, and the patient's progress is more certain and rapid.

For the sake of giving all an opportunity of testing the value and efficacy of their treatment for catarrhal troubles at the outset of this favorable season of the year, Drs. Copeland and Bell make the following notable offer:

ALL PATIENTS APPLYING BEFORE MAY 1, WILL RECEIVE MEDICINES AND TREATMENT FREE FOR TWO WEEKS. This offer is direct and unequivocal, and is made solely and simply for the purpose above stated.

Free to All.

Positively no money will be received on any pretext whatever, or no contract to take money made at the offices of Drs. Copeland and Bell, before May 1. The offer applies to old as well as new patients. It is POSITIVELY a period of free treatment.

All patients applying for treatment before May 1st, will receive medicines and treatment for two weeks.

ANOTHER WITNESS.

Mr. Robert Young Tells What Drs Copeland and Bell Have Accomplished for Him.

"When I went to Drs. Copeland and Bell, I couldn't speak above a whisper. I was completely broken down from the effects of neglected catarrh."

The speaker was Mr. Robert Young, residing on Craig street.

"A very bad cough had settled on me—I coughed almost constantly. My throat was sore and raw. My head ached continually. My eyes were dim and watery, and I could not see distinctly.

"Sharp pains would take me in the chest, running through to the shoulder blades. My chest felt sore and oppressed all the time, as if my lungs were affected.

"The secretions dropping back from behind my palate seemed to affect my stomach and poison my digestion. Food did not seem to strengthen me. I had no appetite; didn't relish anything I ate.

"I lost flesh and strength, and as I say when I went to Drs. Copeland and Bell I couldn't speak above a whisper, under their treatment the trouble in my throat has disappeared, I can speak well, I have regained my health and strength, have no more headaches, no more pains in the chest, I eat well, sleep well and feel well, I am another man—a well man to-day."

HOW THE FUR DID FLY

At the Meeting of the Board of Education Last Night.

Sam Kohn Shakes the Walls with His Findings.

As to How the Board Was Organized—And George Trost Has His Tilt After Adjournment—The End Not Yet.

Now the staid old school board indulges in a political hair pulling.

It was no mild affair, either, but a regular monkey and parrot time, and the air was full of fur and feathers.

At the meeting last night, after a motion had been made to adjourn, Mr. Kohn arose to his feet and said: "One minute before we adjourn, Mr. President."

The gentleman was very pale, but in a calm and collected manner poured hot shot into the meeting as follows:

"At the meeting held last Monday morning I was elected as a member of the committee on by-laws and chairman of another committee. To the members of this board who voted for me honestly, and by their good will, I wish to return my sincere thanks. I didn't come into this board to create discord or to disrupt the apparent harmony which has prevailed so long; neither will I submit to an intended wrong or direct insult. All I ask is justice to all. When I was elected as a member of this board, I relied upon my democratic friends to be treated fairly, and on my republican friends to be treated as a gentleman. When I was chosen to the different committees I supposed the action was spontaneous, and not prearranged. I supposed we met on that day as friends and fellow-citizens, with the better interests and the welfare of our public schools at heart, with no thought of selfish designs entering into the work. What duties were assigned to me on that day I gladly and willingly assumed, and stood ready to do my duty for the reason that I believed that my appointment had been made honestly and not by trickery and deception; because I believed these had been made by the honest vote of the board and not by a designing caucus.

"I did not seek this office neither am I here to gratify any selfish end. Coming as I do from a republican ward, where it is necessary to receive as many republican votes as democratic, I feel that I represent the people, and that I am wholly able to represent that ward on this board, and I don't think that I intend to stand idly by and allow another to represent my ward. I am willing to serve my apprenticeship, but I object to being treated as a child.

"Gentlemen, I intend to talk plain. No man can accuse me of trickery. I have played tricks on republicans in politics, but to democrats I have always been open and frank, in all my dealings. When I was elected to this board I understood that there would be no caucus, but all proceedings pertaining to an organization and general business, year in and year out, would be fair and honest.

"But judge how I was deceived when I learn from the best of authority, that five members of this board, two republicans and three democrats, on the Friday before the board was organized, with the shadows of night to hide their identity, stole to the office of the president and under the cover of deception fixed up the committees and arranged the organization of this board as it stands at the present time. I don't want any appointment at the hands of trickery. I am here for one purpose, and as a democrat and republican I propose to do my duty. If a man has anything unkind to say of me and is honorable enough to say it to my face and show me my short-comings, I will thank him for it, but a man who under the guise of friendship will stab another in the back is not to be trusted, and I will have no confidence in him. I had been told that under the administration of President Hubbard we would all receive fair treatment. I have known Mr. Hubbard for a number of years, not as an intimate friend, but as a man I would be glad to recognize on the street. By this act he has forfeited my respect of him as a friend or an acquaintance. One year ago he put himself on four committees. This outrage which he perpetrated one year ago he perpetrated again last Monday. I say it was outrageous for you to do this thing. I could see to the Germans in the schools as well as any other member, and if I am new on the board I am honest and above trickery and deception to accomplish any purpose. What I have had to say I have said to your faces, and you who are guilty know who I mean. I am through, and I assure you that not a word shall be said by me of any of you. Before bidding you good night I desire to resign the appointment tendered me in this manner."

When Mr. Kohn had finished, Mr. Hubbard, pale and evidently greatly agitated, arose and said: "Lit stabbed in the dark, decention. These are serious charges, Mr. Kohn, and should be proven."

Mr. Kohn—"I can prove them. Did not five members of this board meet on Friday at your office?"

Mr. Hubbard—"They did, but there was no deception, and I defy you to prove it."

Mr. Kohn—"I can and will prove what I have said."

Mr. Broer—"I move that we adjourn."

Mr. Eversman—"This is all unnecessary. If five of the members desire to meet, that is their privilege."

Mr. Schlingman seconded the motion to adjourn.

Mr. Kohn objected.

The motion was put and carried—Messrs. Kohn, Trost and Scott voting nay.

After the meeting broke up the members stood around discussing the unexpected development.

Mr. Schlingman, addressing himself to Mr. Trost, said: "I don't know what you are kicking about. Are you not chairman of the committee on by-laws?"

"Yes," replied Trost, "and when you suggested my name as a candidate you hung your head like adirty dog, didn't you?"

"I always look away when I speak, replied Mr. Schlingman.

"No, you hung your head like a dirty dog, that's what you did," hotly answered Trost.

"Mr. Trost, you are exceeding yourself in this matter, and are making charges that you will be unable to prove.

Mr. Trost—"O no, I am not. I know just what I am talking about, Mr. Hubbard. I know also that when the board met last year you put yourself on four different committees, and when you announced your committees you was ashamed of your action and said that, in making up the committees, you had unintentionally put yourself on four committees and would change it. You never did, and never intended to, and you worked the same game this year. You know as well as I do that you could not have been elected president by republican votes, so you went in with three democrats and divided up the spoils with them."

Mr. Hubbard—"Mr. Trost, you are a young man, and I am old and gray."

Mr. Trost—"I respect your age and gray hairs, but I have no respect for you otherwise."

And thus the members parted.

"THANK YOU."

PANAMA CANAL.

More Trouble in Store for the People.

Panama, April 26.—The canal enterprise is threatened with total collapse. The government, having removed the chain across the channel entering the canal, which the canal company had placed there to prevent traffic, the company has now chained the canal itself. This will stop produce and timber rafts descending to port.

A high government official states that the canal people, having sold a portion of the machinery in violation of the concession the government will probably annul the contract in protection of industrial industries.

PUMPS VERSUS PRESSURE

Gas Trustees Want Money and Want it at Once.

The Pumping Proposition Again Before the Board—Regular Meeting Last Evening—Little Business Transacted.

At the regular meeting of the board of gas trustees last evening the Strauss pumping proposition again came up for discussion. The former proposition of Messrs. Strauss was to transmit through the medium of pumps from 15,000,000 to 20,000,000 feet daily of the city's gas from the field to the city at a cost of 4 cents per cubic foot.

The proposition was laid over on the suggestion of Mr. Voit. He believed 4 cents was too much.

The proposition came again asking 2 1-2 cents a cubic foot, and it looked last night as if the proposition would be accepted. The idea is simply idiotic. The trustees have perhaps not figured it out that 15,000,000 feet at 2 1-2c cents means about $10,000 a month, or half the present income.

Mr. Pew, of Pittsburg, it seems, has been here and talking pumps with the trustees. If the trustees get the necessary money it is probable that the Pew-Hall pumps will be purchased.

Dr. Jones read a note from E. W. Tolerton, attorney for the Strauss people, asking if the trustees proposed accepting the firm's proposition.

On suggestion of Mr. Voit the manager was instructed to notify the firm that nothing could be done until the council issued the bonds.

Dr. Jones said this difficulty could be gotten around by buying a rental of $300 a month. This had been done before and could be done again.

Mr. Romeis thought the matter of pumps should be seriously considered and contracts for pumps, if pumps are found necessary, given to the lowest bidder.

Dr. Jones said there were many ways of skinning a cat. He, for one, was ready to take some risk, and he hoped other members were equally patriotic.

Mr. Romeis, from the committee on finance, introduced a resolution whereby the council will be asked to issue $100,000 of bonds, to be used in improving the gas plant.

Mr. Voit did not think the council would issue the full amount without some specific information as to what the money was to be used for.

Mr. Backus moved the adoption of the resolution.

Mr. Voit was not prepared to vote for the resolution until he knew for what purpose the money was to be used.

In reply to a query Dr. Jones said the council must issue the bonds or take the responsibility.

The resolution carried, Mr. Voit voting No.

On motion of Dr. Jones the finance committee was instructed to appear before the ways and means committee and urge the issuance of the bonds.

Dr. Jones, from the committee on claims, presented a schedule of bills amounting to $653, and the same was ordered paid.

Mr. Voit presented a set of extra rules for the auditor, and the same, after some discussion, was adopted.

It was decided to allow users of gas for cook stoves to use the gas for summer kitchen stoves at the same price under certain conditions.

Manager Heston recommended that all licenses issued to gas fitters be revoked. No one, he said, but the natural gas inspector had the right to issue licenses. The recommendation was adopted.

Rentals for wells, amounting to $1,100, representing 1,100 acres were presented and was referred to the committee on territory.

The secretary announced the receipts since last meeting $1,183. Balance in treasury, $15,407.

DURING THE TEETHING PERIOD.

MR. WILLIAM Q. JUDGE.

General Secretary of the Theosophists, To-Morrow Night in Toledo.

Those interested in the doctrine of Theosophy as believers, or as students, should not fail to hear Mr. Judge at Memorial hall annex Wednesday night, the 27th. There is no better exponent of the faith on this continent. He is general secretary of the international society, and to him was intrusted a third portion of the ashes of Mme. Blavatsky, after her cremation, which he brought to New York to be placed in a shrine at the headquarters of the society in that city. He is said to be a fine speaker.

GOOD SERVICE

Of Sergeant Scott, Who Joined the Police Force Twenty-five Years Ago To-day.

Twenty-five years ago to-day Sergeant Scott of the police force joined the ranks and he has seen many years of active service among the peace preservers. Soon after the reorganization of the force in 1868 he was made captain, and once since he served as chief of the force. In the early seventies he was off of the force for a while and was engaged in business. Since returning he has served continually and has made an efficient officer. For a number of years past he has held the rank of sergeant.

NEW DRAMATIC CLUB

In Process of Organization—The Project in Good Hands.

An amateur dramatic society is being organized in this city and now the ambitious actors of the city will have an opportunity of displaying their ability to better advantage than heretofore. The project is under the direction of Bert St. John, Will Stackhouse and Bert Klunk. A meeting for organization will be held soon and after the preliminaries have been arranged the club will set about presenting a play that will undoubtedly prove a surprise, as there is much dramatic ability in this city and it only needs recognition to bring it to the front.

CHARLES A. GARDNER

Opens to Big Business in His New Play, Captain Karl.

One of the largest Monday night houses of the season filled the People's theater last evening at the opening performance of Charles A. Gardner and company in Captain Karl.

This play has a new name and some different characters, but it is substantially the same as the other pieces in which Mr. Gardner has made such an enviable name for himself. His singing is as delightful as ever and he has some splendid new songs. The Tyrolean quartet, composed of Misses Grauss and Meister and Messrs. Grauss and Conradi, made a big hit and were repeatedly encored. Mr. Gardner's support is fair, though weak in several characters, but taken as a whole the performance is good and will play to big business.

DAMROSCH COMING

To Toledo With the Symphony Orchestra May 21.

Walter Damrosch, with 65 musicians, will be at the Wheeler opera house Saturday evening, May 21, assisted by the soprano artist, Frl. Irene Pevney, formerly of the Grand opera, Munich. The following brilliant program will be rendered:

Part I.

Overture—"Fingal's Cave," Mendelssohn; Unfinished Symphony, Schubert. I. Allegro moderato; 2. Andante commoto. Styrienne, from "Mignon," Thomas—Frl. Irene Pevny.

Divertissement from Henry VIII, Saint-Soens; 1. Entry of the Clans; 2. Scotch Idyl; 3. Gypsy Dance; 4. Reel and Finale. Adagio, Gavotte, Bach—String Orchestra.

Part II.

Norwegian Rhapsody, Lalo; Allegretto from VIIth Symphony, Beethoven; Air of Michaela, from Carmen, Bizet—Frl. Irene Pevny.

Prize Song, from "Die Meistersinger," Wagner—(Violin obligato by Mr. Adolph Brodsky.)

Rakoczy March—Berlioz.

To bring this orchestra to Toledo means expense and enterprise, but that the effort will be fully appreciated is already assured.

'TWAS SOON ENDED.

The Strike on the Columbus Dock is Over.

The recent strike of the coal handlers on the Columbus docks ended as quickly as the first one, although this time rain did not come to wet the the coal down. In fact the men have returned to work thoroughly understanding that they must handle dry coal, as is done at the other lake ports. The word was given out this morning, that the men could go to work, and that all who did not could come up and be paid off and make room for other men. The most of the men returned to work. Some 80 who refused were promptly paid off and discharged. Supt. Carlton has the places of more than half of these already filled, and expects to fill the rest from the ranks of the unemployed in Toledo. It looks now as though he would have no difficulty in doing so, and would not have to send to Chicago for men.

THE RAILWAY CLERKS

Have a Good Time at Their Third Complimentary Social.

There was a good crowd at Friendship hall last night, on invitation of the Toledo Railway Clerks' association, attending the third complimentary party and entertainment. A literary program occupied the first hour, and the different numbers were rendered in artistic style, the participants being as follows: Overture, Uhl Brothers orchestra; welcome address, President Geo. W. Lipscombe; solo, "You," Miss Birdie Conlisk; piano duet, the Misses Florence Cahoo and Matie Schlenker; solo, "Love's Sorrow," Miss Nellie Talmadge; recitation, "Curfew shall not ring to-night," Miss Regina Ruehlin; musical selection, The Jolly Four Serenading club; xylophone and musical bowl specialties, Messrs. Joseph and Philip Uhl.

The floor was cleared at 10 o'clock, and 12 dances were indulged in. The committees in charge of the party were as follows: Amusement—H. F. Ruppel, R. M. Conlisk, J. C. Mullen, J. E. Connell; reception—G. W. Lipscombe, R. G. Fitzgerald, Wm. Weingard, O. C. Weideman; floor—Frank White director, E. W. Rogers, Harry Waters, Jas. F. Degnan.

THE MOTHER GOOSE CARNIVAL

Was a First-Class Affair in Every Particular.

Toledo lodge, No. 20, K. P., entertained its friends last night in handsome style. Some time since Messrs. M. D. Avery, Chas. E. Chittenden and J. H. Platner were appointed to make the necessary arrangements for the annual party, and they put the same into a Mother Goose carnival, which proved a very delightful affair. Many of the characters were well dressed, and the old shoe was not forgotten. Dancing was kept up until a late hour in the main hall, while the lodge room was utilized for cards, music and social conversation. The ladies prepared a dainty supper, and on the whole there was nothing left undone to afford enjoyment for all. The committee on entertainment and floor was composed of Messrs. M. H. Jennings, C. B. Bargman, M. D. Avery, C. E. Chittenden, William Beatty, L. Hartson, J. D. Batch and J. H. Tripp, while the ladies' committee, to whom the lodge is much indebted, consisted of Miss Grace Chesebro, Mrs. M. D. Avery, Mrs. M. McCarrick, Mrs. Rowland, Mrs. A. J. Marker, Mrs. J. H. Platner and Mrs. J. D. Batch.

BUSINESS PROGRESS.

Worts, Kirk & Bigelow to Improve Their Works.

The Worts, Kirk & Bigelow branch of the United States Baking company expect to more than double their capacity at the corner of St. Clair and Oak streets by erecting a large new building, thoroughly fitted for all branches of the baking and confectionery business.

It will be one of the largest and finest plants in the city.

The present quarters are largely overcrowded with their growing business.

The company have purchased property and will take an active interest in the advancement of the city.

SOFT COAL COMBINE.

Operators and Shippers Agree to Uphold Prices and Maintain Rates.

Mr. G. G. Hadley returned last evening from Columbus where he had been attending a meeting of coal operators and shippers of the Hocking Valley territory.

The meeting was simply an adjournment of the meeting held in Pittsburg a few days ago, and which resulted in no agreement.

At the Columbus meeting an organization was formed whereby there will be no cutting of rates this season. Prices will be maintained.

"Is it something in the nature of a trust, Mr. Hadley?" a Bee asked him this morning.

"Not quite. It is simply an organization among the shippers and operators to maintain prices."

Heretofore there has been slashing of prices right along. This latest maneuvre will tend to stop all that.

DEATH OF MRS. KLINGE.

The Mother of Mrs. Rosa L. Segur Has Passed Away.

Mrs. Jeannetta Klinge, the mother of Mrs. Rosa L. Segur, who died this morning after an illness of four months, was one of the pioneer residents of Toledo, having made it her home continually since the autumn of 1840. She was born in Bleicherode, Germany, May 24, 1812, having nearly completed her eightieth year. Although loving her adopted country, she largely retained her German characteristics to the close of her life. An excellent loving mother and grandmother and a good friend passed away when her life fled. In Toledo's early history she was among those active in good works, although always of that domestic character which marks the aristocratic German woman. She leaves an only daughter, Mrs. Rosa L. Segur, and two grandchildren, Mrs. Fannie Segur-Foster, of Dallas, Texas, and Daniel Segur, of this city. Notice of her funeral will be given to-morrow, after it is learned whether Mrs. Segur-Foster, who has been notified, can attend.

A CROWNING SUCCESS.

Splendid Entertainment by the Toledo Maennerchor.

The first concert to be given by the Toledo Maennerchor has been looked forward to with interest and pleasure, and those who failed to attend missed a rare musical treat.

Memorial hall was filled with an enthusiastic audience last night which manifested a hearty welcome to the Toledo Maennerchor upon its debut into the musical world.

The society was assisted by the Mathias orchestra, Miss Doolittle and Mr. A. E. Trost.

The entire program was well arranged and nicely rendered.

The choruses were excellent and the soloists are so well known that success is assured wherever they sing.

The officers of the society are: Director, Joseph Wylli; president, R. Sussmann; vice-president, Ph. Ernst; secretary, John Graf.

Much interest has been taken in the Mathias orchestra, as it supplies one of Toledo's demands.

Messrs. Rodeck and Seubert—tenor and baritone—possess fine voices, which Toledo audiences are always glad to hear. The Maennerchor is to be congratulated upon its success.

THE BOARD OF EDUCATION.

Routine Business Attended to Before the Squall.

The board of education met last evening. The truant officer submitted his monthly report, which showed 127 visits made and five incorrigibles sent to the reform farm.

The various committees reported the regular schedules of monthly bills approved.

The chairman of the committee on by-laws gave the requested 30 day's notice of a change in the by-laws.

Mr. Schlingman wanted to know what the changes would be.

Mr. Trost, the chairman, stated that they would be changed from section 7 to 26.

The finance committee requested further time on the insurance matter, which was granted.

With regard to $160 claimed by Brown, Eager & Hull for freight on school books, the committee had considered it would be justice to pay $100, which was adopted.

The board resolved to advertise for bids for the renting or purchase of a piano.

The following bids were opened for the sodding of the Monroe, Broadway and Segur avenue school yards:

John Barrow, grade, Monroe, $194, sod, $224; Segur, $74.

Henry Kerruish, Segur, $65; Broadway, $85; Monroe, $199.32.

Singer & Schertz, Broadway, $625; Segur, $135; Monroe, $325.

The contract was awarded Mr. Schertz.

CATHOLIC KNIGHTS OF OHIO.

Entertain in Handsome Manner at Their Hall on Broadway.

Last evening branch No. 9, Catholic Knights of Ohio, gave an entertaining literary entertainment at its hall, corner of Broadway and Segur avenue. There was a large attendance and the program was carried out in excellent style. Addresses were delivered by President J. C. Phelan, Rev. Father McCarthy, Judge Harmon and others. The entertainment was both instructive and interesting, and those present voted it an entire success.

The following is the program as carried out:

Overture, orchestra.

Workings of the order, President J. C. Phelan.

Piano selection, Christmas Polonaise, Misses Marion and Olive O'Hara.

Vocal duet, Mrs. J. J. Flood and Miss L. Burdette.

Address, Judge G. Harmon.

Solo, Miss W. Phelan.

Recitation, Sleeper Sails, Miss Agnes Cavanaugh.

Remarks by spiritual director, Rev. T. P. McCarthy.

Solo, The Sinking Ship, Miss Loretta Cavanaugh.

Piano duet, Misses W. Phelan and Lorretta Downing.

Duet, mandolin-guitar, Messrs. Dachsteiner and Kirschner.

Song, John L. Burns.

Piano and violin,, Miss M. O'Hara, D. J. O'Hara.

John Hall Richardson, a prominent New York newspaper man, who used liquor to excess, took the Keeley treatment and was cured. He says: "Most of the men who are sent to the Keeley Institutes, are sent as the last resort. Very many of them are broken in health, bloated in body, blotched and scarred on their faces, and half crazed in their minds. I have seen them brought out of it all within two weeks, so that their skin resumed its normal appearance, their minds became clear, and they have wondered whatever possessed them to give themselves up to excessive drink."

This is the experience of thousands who have taken the Keeley treatment. There are only two Keeley Institutes in Ohio, at Marysville and Madisonville. All communications strictly confidential. Address, The Keeley Institute, Marysville, Ohio.

Their home treatment for the tobacco habit is a great success—send for particulars.

What Are Women Coming to With Their Nerves.

"For years I was troubled with weak nerves and a bad stomach affection. Some called it heart disease, congestion of the liver, malaria, inflammation of the stomach. I was confined to my bed, could keep nothing on my stomach and ached so intensely all through the system that life was almost unendurable.

I took Dr. Greene's Nervura. The result was truly marvelous. From the first dose I date my improvement. I am now in better health than for years previous. Words are inadequate to describe the wonderful curative properties which this remedy possesses. I am satisfied that the majority of ills can be cured by this excellent remedy. I deem Dr. Greene's Nervura the best of all medicines.

MISS E. DURRELL, Kennebunk, Me."

The above tells the story. Nervous weakness is the bane of women's lives. All their ills—nervousness, weak, tired, languid feeling, low spirits, faintness, fullness or bloating after eating, headache, malaria, sleeplessness, constipation, backache, irregularities, etc., are all caused by disorder of the nerves. These troubles are always increased and made worse by the weakness and debility of spring. Those who have had the Grip also, have been left with weakened nerves and dibilitated systems, and should not neglect their weakened condition, as serious disease may result. Use Dr. Greene's Nervura, the great nerve cure, and ALL THESE WEAKENING, NERVOUS DISEASES WILL DISAPPEAR AS IF BY MAGIC. Purely vegetable and harmless. Druggists, $1.

Dr. Greene, the successful specialist, in curing all forms of nervous and chronic diseases, 35 W. 14th street, New York, can be consulted free, personally or by letter. Call or write to him about your case or send for symptom blank to fill out, and a letter fully explaining your disease, giving advice, etc., will be returned free.

DR. TOBEY ACCEPTS

The Superintendency of the Toledo Asylum.

He Wired Dr. Baxter to that Effect Last Evening—Meeting at the Boody To-day.

As anticipated and intimated by the Bee, Dr. H. A. Tobey has accepted the position of superintendent of the Toledo Insane asylum.

Dr. Tobey wired Dr. Baxter last evening that he would accept.

To a Bee to-day Dr. Tobey in reply to a query said:

"I completed arrangements last evening that will enable me to accept the position.

"I wired Dr. Baxter to that effect last evening."

"When will you accept charge, Doctor?"

"I cannot tell until the board meets again."

It is understood the change will take place the first week of May.

Dr. Tobey met Dr. Baxter at the Boody this afternoon and talked the situation over with him.

The acceptance of the position by Dr. Tobey means practically the reappointment of Mr. Kearns as steward.

This, however, will not be decided definitely until Dr. Tobey takes hold.

WEARY MOTHERS

LOOK AT THIS.

Are these not healthy and bright children? Their appearance does not misrepresent them; they are both healthy and bright. They are the son and daughter of Mrs. J. P. Wiley, of Dorchester, Mass., and he has an interesting story to tell in regard to them. The story is as follows:

"In 1885 my wife, accompanied by my little boy, at that time 11 months old, was visiting relatives in Scranton, Penna. The little fellow was suffering untold agony cutting his teeth. My wife was told to try Dr. Hand's Teething Lotion. The effect was magical. It did not stupefy the child, as most remedies of this character do; it simply soothed the pain of the burning and aching gums. I might write a volume, had I the time, praising this remedy, and then not express my feelings or do it justice, it is simply marvellous. After her return to Boston she wanted another bottle, but I found that it was unknown in this city. I corresponded with Dr. Hand, and received in reply a sample of each of his remedies. I used them on both my children, recommended them to all my friends, and have yet to find the person who, after using the remedies, especially Teething Lotion and Colic Cure, that could not praise them. People may say and have said to me: 'Oh, there must be something in that Teething Lotion that affects a child's brain.' In reply to this, I will say I have two children, a boy and girl, who have been treated with Teething Lotion since time of beginning to end of teething, and I challenge any person to furnish two with more clearer brains. I cheerfully recommend them to parents who love their little ones."

IN THE SPRING!

In the vegetable kingdom, the sap or vital fluid rises from the roots to the trunk and branches, producing leaf and flower. So in the human family, the change is as great, for the blood, if not in good condition, must throw off its impurities. In this it is necessary to assist nature, and nothing is so good to as Swift's Specific. It helps nature to relieve the body, and at the same time tone it up.

CLEANSE THE BLOOD

Mr. RALPH ELKINS lives at Marionsville, Mo., and is a successful farmer. He says that he has been a great sufferer from impurities of the blood, which made his limbs stiff and gave him pain in the lungs, but that he took Swift's Specific and it soon relieved him entirely.

What is being done in the industry of ship construction at the lake shipyards can be inferred from the aggregate of cost of craft actually building at this time in these yards, which is $6,000,000. The growth of this industry at lake points is scarcely comprehended.

To-morrow the democrats of Illinois meet in state convention. There is more than a fighting chance for the democracy in that state this year. The republicans outside of rings are very weary of Gov. Fifer, but he is so determined to secure a renomination that it seems to be a case of defeat with him or without him for his party.

The republicans of the new Fifth congressional district met in Defiance on Monday and appointed Mr. G. L. Marble, of Van Wert, and Mr. Oscar Eaton, of Williams, delegates to the Minneapolis convention. Mr. Marble formerly lived in Toledo and was general attorney of the C., J. & M. Railway. The delegates selected at Defiance are administration republicans, the Foraker contingent being in a hopeless minority.

Tammany maintains power by rigid discipline. The public officer nominated and elected by its potent agency must maintain his political loyalty or off goes his official head. Col. Truman A. Merriman, just dead, felt the power of Tammany. He was a prominent newspaper man, president of the New York press club at one time. Elected to congress by Tammany he bolted his party and voted against the Mills bill. For that offense he was disciplined and was refused a renomination to congress. Out of occupation, in disrepute with Tammany, he drifted until death relieved him.

Senators Wolcott, Teller and Stewart, republicans, go on record as opposing President Harrison's project for an international monetary conference. They believe it is "a put-up job," arranged between Secretary Foster and Mr. Groschen, British chancellor of the exchequer. The conference, they say, will come to naught because of the conditions and limitations proposed and accepted, and they are so cruel as to say further that President Harrison knows this, but makes the proposal for a conference as "an electioneering device." It is very sad to see the republican brethren thus hold one another in distrust, the more so as the silver question was intended to divide only the democratic party.

The Paddock pure food bill should be defeated. That it has passed the senate marks the departure of that body from the safe lines of its earlier history, when it stood a bulwark of the nation against any popular demand for unwise legislation. It creates a useless and expensive bureau, which will work mischief by unwise meddling with commerce, and which is sure, benefiting no one, to be guilty of unjust discriminations. The bill no doubt originated in good intentions, but we know what country is paved with such intentions. What we shall eat may well be left for free decision a little longer. The bill should be filed away along with the Blair educational bill, the spelling reform bill, and all others of similar character. It should never become law.

The senate vote for the re-enactment of the present Chinese exclusion law goes to the house of representatives as a substitute for the more rigid bill that passed the latter body. The substitute will doubtless be concurred in. As remarked by Senator Squire, of Washington, on the senate floor yesterday, the present law is good enough if the officials trusted with its enforcement would do their duty. The law has been evaded and its evasion winked at during the present administration. The same is true of the contract labor law. The hypocrisy of the party of "protection to labor" has been well shown up during the debate upon this bill, but all that is desired, so far as the Chinese are concerned, is secured if the present bill is re-enacted, and if then its provisions are honestly enforced.

San Salvador, Honduras, Nicaragua and Costa Rica may hold a conference in September next. The congress of the first-named country has invited five delegates from each of the other four to meet its five delegates at San Salvador in that month, and the purpose stated is to bring the five states into one federation. The delegates are to be clothed with power to effect this, by determining a basis of union, selecting a federal capital city, and taking such other action as may be deemed advisable and necessary. Here's hoping the present governments of the five states may be able to hold on until this sensible consummation is reached. A solid federation of Central American states would increase their power abroad and reduce the number of petty internal revolutions that are now their weakness.

BETTER AND BETTER.

To-day the Bee commences a new year. It is still in its teens but is a youth of manly proportions and grows better and better as the days and years go by. The last year has been one of progress, and its new home business is better and circulation greater than at any previous time in its history. The Bee is the people's favorite paper, for which its proprietors are truly thankful.

YOUR HAND, JIMMY.

A hearty shake with Mr. James H. Pheatt, the new City Auditor, elected by the council Monday night. It was a well-planned campaign and admirably executed. Mr. Pheatt is highly qualified for the office and his selection will be satisfactory to all taxpayers.

Now that the offices are apportioned and the committees appointed the council will commence the legislation of the year, and the general belief is that wise and economical methods will prevail.

KURTZ AFTER JIM BROWN

He Proposes Making It Hot for His Assailant.

Jacob Talks with a Bee on the Subject.

He Does Not Propose to be Insulted by One of Harrison's Officeholders Without Entering a Vigorous Protest.

The unfortunate expression used by Postmaster Brown during the heated discussion at the republican convention Saturday has caused the biggest kind of a rumpus, and instead of subsiding, the excitement is growing.

Last evening it was reported that Mr. Kurtz's friends were out with a petition to President Harrison asking for the postmaster's removal. The idea was to compel the president to remove Jacob's assailant.

Mr. Kurtz, however, up to noon to-day had not quite decided just what steps to take.

A Bee met him this morning going into the office of his attorney, Mr. J. F. Kumler.

"I am going now," he said, "to further consult my attorney and will be able to tell you more when I have interviewed him."

"Is it reported that you propose bringing a suit for damages. How is that?"

"Well, I don't know. Mr. Kumler has the case under consideration. I am not going to let it rest, however. I am going to push it just as far as I can."

Mr. Brown, it seems, denies that the expression was directed against you."

"Oh, but he can't deny it. I have Judge Millard and 20 other witnesses who heard him and will swear to it. No, he can't go back on it. I wasn't at the convention myself. If I was I'd have broken him in two."

"Are you circulating a petition to have Mr. Brown removed?"

"You must see Mr. Kumler. I will be able to tell you more, perhaps, later."

Mr. Kumler, however, was mum. He had nothing to say for publication.

It is understood that the papers upon which Mr. Kurtz's attorneys are now at work will be in the form of a retraction and an apology which Mr. Brown will be asked to sign.

FORAKERITES VANQUISHED

Mayor Emmick Has Joined the Sherman Crowd,

Which Event, of Course, Marks Everlasting Victory for This Faction—Vince Has an Iron in the Fire.

It is all settled.

The Sherman crowd has been reinforced by an invincible power and the Foraker boys are no longer on earth.

Reading the handwriting on the walls at Druid hall, Vincent J. Emmick, that distinguished politician, has deserted the vanquished and cast his fortunes and influence with the federal office crowd, and is now one of them.

"What do you think," remarked one of the leaders of the Sherman faction to a Bee this morning, "Mayor Emmick has deserted the Foraker camp and wants to be installed in our ranks.

"This morning he approached me and wanted to know what he could do for the Sherman faction. He also stated that he stood ready to do anything in his power for James M. Brown."

Mayor Emmick has learned the value of a Sherman endorsement. He wants to be mayor again, and thinks he can best advance his cause by leaving the Foraker camp.

THE JOINT SESSION.

Followed by the Board of Councilmen.

Ex-Councilman Pheatt Becomes City Auditor, with Fourteen Democratic Votes—President Coleman's Committees.

Another joint session of the boards of council was held last evening and ex-Councilman James H. Pheatt was elected city auditor in place of Mr. Walker, who has held that office for two terms. The supporters of Mr. Walker, however, did not give in without a struggle, and as neither the democratic or republican forces were entirely united the fight was a promiscuous one and the result doubtful for a dozen ballots.

Both sides caucussed before the session, and the democrats deliberated for an hour, so that it was after 9 o'clock before the session was called to order. As the members took their seats it was very evident from their faces that all was not lovely, and no one could tell what the result would be.

The election of auditor was the only business before the meeting, but before this was taken up Mr. Coleman made a motion to adjourn. This motion was lost by a vote of 20 to 7.

There was much confusion in the voting, and it was plain that neither side had determined upon a policy.

When the first ballot was taken the trouble was shown up, for Mr. Tanner bolted the republicans, who were supporting Walker, and voted for John Skeldon, and Mr. Hodge of the Seventh bolted the democrats, who were supporting Mr. Pheatt, and voted for Walker.

On this vote the ballot stood Walker 13, Pheatt 13, Skeldon 1. The vagaries of Mr. Tanner, who voted for several gentlemen besides the principal contestants, were the only changes in the votes for 12 ballots. But on the 13th ballot Mr. Hodge voted for Pheatt and Mr. Tanner voted for John Rutherford. This gave Mr. Pheatt 14 votes, Mr. Walker 12 and Mr. Rutherford 1, and Mr. Pheatt was declared elected.

The joint session then adjourned.

The Councilmen.

After the joint session had finished, the board of councilmen met and transacted considerable business.

Mr. Gill presented a resolution to permit property owners to grade Clark and Utah streets at their own expense, which was adopted.

A number of resolutions from different members for new sidewalks were referred to the sidewalk committee.

Mr. Doner presented petitions to pave Erie street from North Railroad avenue to Logan street, and to change the name of Carroll street to Oliver Place. These were referred to the street committee.

Mr. Schmitt introduced a resolution to pave Speilbusch avenue between Oak and Orange streets. Referred.

Mr. Swain, for the committee on rules and by-laws, presented the report of that committee, which was the same as that presented to the aldermen, and was adopted.

Mr. Coleman then named his standing committees as follows:

Streets—Walker, Rutherford, Gill, Doner, Schmuhl, Tanner.

Sewers—Schmidt, Daly, Felker, Taylor, Neuendorf, Lee.

Ways and Means—Rutherford, Swain, Doner, Gill, Morris, Manchester.

Fire Department—Schmuhl, Walker, Rutherford, Gill, Hake, Neuendorf.

Sidewalks—Felker, Daly, Schmitt, Miller, Manchester.

Judiciary—Swain, Daly, Felker, Lee, Neuendorf.

Printing—Neuendorf, Schmitt, Doner, Taylor, Tanner.

Water Works and Water Supply—Hake, Schmitt, Miller, Morris, Taylor.

Infirmary—Tanner, Daly, Miller, Neuendorf, Lee.

Buildings—Morris, Felker, Taylor, Schmuhl, Manchester.

Harbor Commerce and Bridges—Walker, Rutherford, Swain, Gill, Doner, Schmuhl, Manchester.

Gas and Light—Gill, Rutherford, Doner, Morris, Tanner.

Railroads and Telegraph—Daly, Swain, Rutherford, Walker, Lee, Tanner, Coleman.

Rules, By-Laws and Ordinances—Swain, Gill, Hake, Miller.

Plats and Surveys—Doner, Swain, Taylor, Morris.

Market and Market Houses—Schmitt, Daly, Felker, Lee, Miller.

Work House and Pounds—Miller, Schmuhl, Hake, Manchester, Walker.

Parks and Canal Beds—Manchester, Gill, Schmitt, Taylor, Neuendorf.

Claims and Accounts—Lee, Schmitt, Gill, Manchester.

Cemetery—Taylor, Walker, Rutherford, Hake, Miller.

Education and University—Manchester, Felker, Hake, Lee, Neuendorf.

Police and Health—Doner, Daly, Walker, Schmuhl, Tanner.

Entertainment—Swain, Schmitt, Doner, Morris, Tanner.

These did not seem to suit Mr. Gill, for he moved that the report be laid on the table. This motion was lost by a vote of 15 to 3, and by the same vote the committees were approved.

THE PAN-HELLENIC BANQUET

Social Meeting of College Fraternity Men

At Which Good Cheer Will Prevail and Old Times Will be Renewed.

The second annual banquet of the Toledo Pan-Hellenic society will be held at the Toledo club building to-night and will be an elaborate affair.

Mr. Alex W. Smith will preside as toast-master and the program of toasts is as follows:

The Greek in the Outer World—"Noblesse Oblige"—Frank H. Hurd.

"Moral Power of the Fraternity."

"Friendship gave our orders birth,
Pure and lasting as the earth."—Old Song.
James A. Young.

"The Old Boy."

* * * "You'll find a difference
Between the promise of his greener days,
And these he masters now."
Charles G. Wilson.

"The Old Girl."

"She's no chicken; she's on the wrong side
Of thirty if she be a day."—Swift.
C. Locke Curtis.

"The Value of the Fraternity sentiment."

"Best friend; my well-spring in the wilderness."—George Eliot.
Emory W. Hunt.

"Our Mystic Beacon."

"As to the seaman o'er the waves is borne
The watch fire's light, which, high among the hills,
Some shepherd kindles in his lonely fold."
—Illiad, Book XIX.
Emery D. Potter, jr.

This program will be interspersed with college songs and the college men will renew again the old time associations.

The board of managers of the society is composed as follows:

Alpha Delta Phi, F. L. Geddes; Alpha Sigma Phi, Charles T. Lewis; Alpha Tau Omega, O. L. Foster; Beta Theta Pi, James Austin, jr.; Delta Kappa Epsilon, R. S. Holbrook; Delta Tau Delta, Dr. Wm. Watts; Delta Phi, J. R. W. Cooper; Delta Psi, Geo. H. Beckwith; Kappa Alpha, W. T. Carrington; Sigma Chi, C. G. Ballou; Sigma Phi, Dr. G. L. Thorne; Phi Gamma Delta, John M. Ormond; Phi Delta Theta, J. R. Calder; Phi Kappa Psi, K. A. Flickinger; Chi Psi, Chas. E. Kent; Psi Upsilon, F. E. Roff.

POPE IS IN BUFFALO.

The Runaway Insurance Man Discovered.

Mr. A. W Colton Comes Face to Face With Him in the Streets of Buffalo.

The whereabouts of the mysteriously missing insurance agent, A. E. Pope, has at last been discovered.

Sunday afternoon while walking with a friend on one of the principal streets of Buffalo Mr. A. W. Colton, of this city, met Pope face to face.

Mr. Colton was at first too surprised to speak, and when he regained his presence of mind Pope had disappeared.

The matter was the topic of considerable discussion on 'change this morning, and now it is given out that Pope has been in Canada right across the river from Niagara Falls, and that he makes periodical visits to Buffalo and other towns on the American side.

Mr. Colton said he did not look well, but that he was dressed in his customary natty style.

HIS WOUNDS PROVED FATAL.

Celina, O., April 26.—The shooting affray which occurred in a saloon row at Burketsville, this county, a few days ago, has resulted in the death of Cyrus Flaylor, a well known and respected citizen who was shot by August Courtman.

Courtman claims it was accidental, as he had no ill-feeling toward Flaylor, and that they were on the best of terms.

CURRENT COMMENT.

Secretary Blaine says there was never but one time that he really wanted to be president, and that was in 1876. In the light of this statement, however, it seems a little singular that Mr. Blaine should have tried so hard to get elected in 1884.—Manchester Union.

There may be and probably are Englishmen who are opposed to an international monetary conference, but a very large majority of the subjects of the queen of Great Britain and empress of India are decidedly in favor of it.—New York World.

The gallant Major McKinley has many warm friends who will not be induced to admit that he is not the best republican candidate for the presidency in every view. They are workers, too, and the indications are that they will not surrender until the convention has decided, or until its decision is more clearly foreshadowed than it now (to them) seems to be.—Wilkesbarre Record.

If it is finally definitely ascertained that Mr. Blaine will not be a candidate would not the choice of McKinley, who distinctly represents the protection idea, or Robert Lincoln, who is not only "the son of his father" but has proved himself a statesman of himself, be the best because the surest choice?—Lockport Journal.

The democracy of Pennsylvania join in the demand of the rest of the country for a reform of the tariff, showing that upon that issue the party is a unit. If there were hesitation anywhere upon this question of paramount importance we might expect to find it in Pennsylvania, but the resolutions adopted at Harrisburg show that there is none there.—Mobile Register.

The United States government might well adopt the Italian motto, festina lente (make haste slowly), before interfering in the boundary disputes between Great Britain and Venezuela. The lesson taught by the Chilian revolution should not be so soon forgotten.—Philadelphia Record.

The English woman, in her collective capacity, is after Gladstone for his having driven a nail in the coffin lid of woman suffrage reform. The Grand Old Man will now soon reach the conclusion that he has lived too long.—New York Telegram.

The Indian still keeps up his ghost dance. The ghost in this business may typify all the show the Indian generally has where the Caucasian is interested.—Philadelphia Times.

We so commonly hear about the enormous percentage of alien population in New York that it is well to note the official figures of the recent state census. The total population of the city is 1,801,739. Of this number only 377,755 are aliens. It is obvious that we have no need to worry about twenty per cent. of alien population.—New York News.

President Harrison's advice to northern negroes to collect reports of "outrages" on their race in the southern states, is in perfect accord with the force bill and the "waving of the bloody shirt." The northern negroes can find such material nearer home, and hundreds of southern negroes, who have returned destitute and disgusted from tramps to the northern states and Kansas in search of work and "rights," would be valuable witnesses in an investigation of this kind.—Atlanta Journal.

NEWS OF THE LAKE PORTS

The Wahnapatae Case Filed in Court.

The Big Nicol Sued for a Large Sum.

The Owners of the Barge Want to Test a Steamer's Right to Cast a Boat Adrift—Local and General Mention.

Chicago, April 26.—(Special Marine Service)—The 'Longshoremen's strike, which has been under way for three weeks, came to an end to-day, the treaty of peace between Contractor McRae and the 'Longshoremen's union having been signed yesterday afternoon.

Mr. McRae and the union's committee were in session at the Anchor Line office all yesterday morning. At 2 o'clock they reconvened at the office of Charles E. Kramer, the attorney of the steamboat line. There a formal treaty, patterned after the Magna Charta, was drawn up and duly signed. There were three pages of typewriting in it, but it could all be covered in this synopsis: McRae pays 25 cents an hour and does as he pleases. It was specified that the men should be paid after each job, but only at the contractor's office between 9 a. m. and 3 p. m.

The union agrees not to directly or indirectly attempt to coerce any non-union men into joining the organization. Any one attempting to do so shall be discharged. McRae binds himself to show no partiality to race, nationality or color, but he shall have the right to discharge men at all times without assigning cause. If he chooses he can hire men at $55 a month. The contract went into effect at noon to-day.

Suit for Damages.

Another big suit involving the duties of a steamer to the boat she has in tow has been instituted at Detroit. In this case $61,000 is involved. November 26, 1890, the steamer John M. Nicol, with the big barge Wahnapatae, approached Cleveland harbor. There was a brisk wind and a moderate sea running.

When within a quarter a mile of the breakwater the steamer threw off the tow-line and the barge struck the breakwater where she very soon pounded to pieces, drowning one man of her crew. The case will be fought on the grounds that the steamer should have towed the barge into port; that she was in no danger herself and that in casting off the barge she ran no risk in doing so, and in deserting the barge at the critical moment she rendered herself liable for the loss.

The suit is brought by the Loveland Transportation company for the loss of the barge and 2,000,000 feet of lumber on board.

Orla Smith, wife of one of the seamen lost from the Wahnapatae, will also institute suit against Nicol for $5,000 on the ground of negligence in causing the death of her husband. Charles E. Kramer, the admiralty lawyer of this city, represents both claims.

Fighting Fishermen.

Consternation was created at the headquarters of the Booth Fishing and Packing Company in Chicago yesterday by a dispatch from its representative at Sault Ste Marie, saying that the Andress FishingCompany had taken possession of the new dock, freight house, etc., built by the Booth company during the winter at Write fish Point, Lake Superior.

It seems that the Andress folks have had surveyors at work several days and that they take possession on the strength of reports of the surveyors to the effect that the Booth improvements are on property owned by the Andress Bros.

Later the representative said that the tug Hunter had taken on a gang of men a the Sault and left for Whitefish Point to recover possession for Booth; that the Andress agent had loaded up another tug with men, armed with Winchester rifles, and that at latest accounts the two tugs were racing for the point.

Mr. Booth, the manager of the company at Chicago, said last evening that th Hunter had left the Sault with material for the completion of their improvements at Whitefish Point, and that Capt. Coffey, their manager up there, was in command of the expedition.

He did not think that there would be any hostilities, but was not fully informed as to all the circumstances. He had telegraphed for full particulars. The distance from Sault Ste Marie to the scene of the trouble is forty miles.

The Booth company purchased the property a short time ago and, if it was a fact did not know that Andress Bros. had any claim to it.

More Money for Ore.

Cleveland, April 26.—(Special Marine Service)—Vessel owners are refusing ore at present rates. The demand for boats is more active than at any time since the opening. To-day's indications are in direction of better figures.

Struck Fighting Island.

Amherstburg, April 26.—(Special Marine Service)—The steamer Nellie Torrent, bound down, ran aground at Fighting island this morning. She jetsoned part of her deck load to get free, then went back to Detroit.

Forty Vessels in the Ice.

Duluth, April 26.—(Special Marine Service.)—About forty vessels are wedged in ice in sight this morning. Wind is still northwest. It is raining.

Local Marine News.

A boat on the Monroe route for this season is one of the probabilities.

The Sylvia and Moravia went out yesterday laden with coal for Duluth.

The up river resort will open about June 15. There may be two boats on the route.

The steamer Egyptian and consort Winslow are in light after coal for Milwaukee.

The steamer Burt is being torn to pieces and will be a beauty when she comes out.

The tug Andrews came in this morning with the schooners Rounds and Hoboken, coal laden, from Buffalo.

The schooner St. Lawrence is waiting for a sandsucker to come off in order to go onto the dry dock at Gilmore's.

The Flora went out this morning with a heavy cargo of merchandise for Mackinaw and way ports.

The directors of the Presque Isle Navigation company met yesterday afternoon and decided to put the Pastime on the Presque Isle route.

The directors of the Presque Isle company will hold a meeting this evening at which arrangements will be made for the opening of the island.

NOT EQUAL TO THE OCCASION.

Paris, April 26.—The Gaulois, commenting on the outrage of last night, reproaches the authorities with incompetency and demands that something be done to put an end to the reign of terror. The Matin expresses views of a similar character.

FAILURE.

New York, April 26.—The Credit Indemnity company, 320 and 324 Broadway, assigned to-day through Marvin V. Wood, its president, and Wm. Lisle, its secretary, to Francis E. Burrows, without preferences.

MARY BOWER'S SPIRIT

Comes Back to Thank Her Sorrowing Friends.

Peculiar Spiritualistic Seance at 328 Erie Street Yesterday—Impressive Address at a Funeral.

The funeral of Mary Bowers, a lady 60 years of age, took place from her late residence 328 Erie street, yesterday afternoon under the auspices of the county infirmary directors.

Mrs. Bowers during the last years of her life devoted much time to the study of spiritualism and was looked upon as a medium of great power and her immediate friends believed in her sincerely.

During the services prior to the funeral yesterday a lady went into a mediumistic trance with a view to recalling the departed spirit of the deceased.

The little room in which the coffin lay was filled with friends and neighbors. To the initiated the trance in which the woman had fallen was most realistic and even death like.

A hush fell on the little assemblage and a silence still and solemn as the dead woman herself reigned for a few moments preceding the first manifestations.

Suddenly the lips of the woman in the trance opened. At first the sounds were inaudible but at length they became clearer and more distinct.

"I am Mary Bowers," said the voice. "I am here with you as real as I was when in real life."

She then proceeded to thank those who were present and said she was exceedingly happy. They might take her body away, she said, and place it in the earth, but she would remain in the house. Her imparting injunction was to screw down the lid gently and to handle the body gently on its way to the grave.

Again and again were the thanks repeated and several times the injunction to close the lid gently was given. Mrs. Bowers was a seamstress and died of tumor of the stomach.

SOCIETY ON THE FRONTIER.

We are pleased to know that the cowboys on the lonely ranches of Arizona do not forget their social duties. When the work of the "round up" is ended they generally have a grand ball which is conducted in the most bon-ton manner. At such a ball which recently took place, the order of the dances was as follows: 1, grand circle march; 2, horse hunter's quadrille; 3, catch horse waltz; 4, saddle up lanciers; 5, broncho racquet; 6, captain's quadrille; 7, circulars gallop; 8, round-up lanciers; 9, cut-out schottische; 10, branding quadrille; 11, cow and calf waltz; 12, night horse lanciers; 13, day herder's waltz; 14, maverick polka; 15, bull calf's medley; 16, stampede all.—Texas Siftings.

Garfield Tea is peculiarly adapted to persons of sedentary habits, as its action is mild, not drastic or constipating, leaving no after ill-effects.

Purity Wins.

OHIO Food Commissioner, Gen. Hurst, shows in his report of the official baking powder tests that Royal Baking Powder is the purest. Every other baking powder tested contained impurities—from 10.18 to 86.23 per cent. of their entire weight.

Commissioner Hurst declares that the Royal is among the very best of cream of tartar baking powders made.

WILL HISTORY REPEAT ITSELF?

Should Benjamin Harrison and Grover Cleveland be the opposing candidates for president this year, as now seems altogether likely, it would be the first instance in fifty-two years, and the third in the history of the government, of a second race for the presidency between the same competitors. Thomas Jefferson and John Adams were the opposing candidates in 1796 and 1800, and Martin Van Buren and William Henry Harrison in 1836 and 1840. In both these cases the man beaten the first time was successful the second. Andrew Jackson and John Quincy Adams were indeed candidates for president both in 1824 and 1828, but in the former contest there were many candidates and it was so much a scrub race that no two could properly be called competitors. And then there was no choice by the people.—Portland Oregnian.

We cannot explain how a man gains a pound a day by taking an ounce a day of Scott's Emulsion of cod-liver oil—it happens sometimes.

It is food that he can digest; we understand that. But it must be more than food to give more than the whole of itself.

He has been losing flesh because he did not get from his food the fat he needed. Scott's Emulsion sets his machinery working again.

DO YOU WANT GOLD?

Cripple Creek is not a health resort. It is a wealth resort. Quite a difference! Location, near Pike's Peak, in Colorado. Gold—bright, yellow gold, is found as grass roots and in the rock formation.

Reliable experts claim this is to-day the richest camp in Colorado. Assays average $100 per ton, and have run as high as $5,000. One hundred people a day are now rushing to Fremont, chief town of the district.

The chance of a life-time is worth looking after!

You can get there quickly and comfortably by taking Santa Fe Route. Only line with no change of cars from Chicago, Kansas City and other principal cities to Florissant, nearest railroad station, with daily stages to Fremont.

WHERE'S BILL?

Where's Bill? Yes, o' course I'm glad to
See th' old town once again;
When I turned th' bend I had to
Jes git up an' yell, an' when
I seen that old steeple risin'
Like a guidepost on th' hill,
Leapin' up frum th' horizon,
I jes had to— Say, where's Bill?

Know that meetin' house? I guess so!
An' that's where we uset to go.
Us boys! Settin' stiff an' jes so,
Like we was put up to show.
There's the graveyard back behind it,
With th' old stone on th' hill;
I believe that I could find it
If I tried to now. Where's Bill?

When we two was boys, Bill showed it
To me one day, an' th' year
Cut in it was— There, I knowed it
Wasn't fur away frum here.
See it's old, an' stained, an' breakin',
Grass-growed, too, an' cracked, until,
It seems like some poor, forsaken,
Homeless thing that— Say, where's Bill?

Bill an' me we often wondered
Whose that stone was; for we guessed
It'd laid down there a hundred
Years or more at very best.
An' he uset to say: "Now I don't
Wunt no better tomb. I will Lay there when I die." Say, why don't
Some o' you-uns say where's Bill?

Yes, old pard, this is the stone, an'
It's the one you uset to claim.
Pshaw! You talk about yer own, an'
Sich fool things. Why—what's—this same
Here, cut underneath the creepers
An' th' moss? Why are you still?
His name! Here among th' sleepers—
An' I— Well, I've found you, Bill.

—Carl Smith in Harper's Weekly.

Complaint is made that the new members of congress quote too much poetry and indulge too extensively in sophomoric word-painting when they speak. Official orders have been issued to the effect that women teachers in the public schools of Prussia, who may get married during their term of office, shall give up their appointments. An excellent portrait in oil, supposed to be of George Washington in his youth, has recently been discovered in the possession of Thomas Nelmes, Pasadena, Cal. It was owned by Mr. Nelmes' father, in Bristol, Eng., more than 80 years ago, and on the death of the father and the removal of the family from Bristol it was taken out of its old carved oaken frame and rolled up, and so remained almost forgotten until recently.

The Pope who is eighty-two, wears spectacles only when reading; for ordinary use his eyesight remains good. He could see better at seventy than he could at twenty, for when young he was very nearsighted. The health of His Holiness is excelent, and it is kept so by his very simple mode of life. He is in bed usually for eight hours, from 10 to 6. His meals are all of a frugal character, his breakfast at times consisting solely of a glass of milk.

Prof. McCook, of Hartford, has been investigating the tramp question and finds that out of a total of 1,295 of professional tie counters, 56 per cent. were American born, 90 per cent. could read and write, that 453 of them claimed to be strictly temperate, while 30 of them claimed to be total abstainers. The wonder of all this is as to where the professor made the acquaintance of so many work-defying and soap-adjuring gentlemen of leisure?

There were many people in Missouri a score of years ago, most of them ex-confederate soldiers, who had a consuming hatred for the late Charles B. Drake, the jurist who died in Washington recently. For Mr. Drake was the man who did more than any one else to have the test-oath clause put in the Missouri constitution of 1865—the "Draconian code," as it is called. This oath practically disfranchised everybody in the state who had sympathized with the southern cause. Even preachers of the gospel were, by another section of the constitution, forbidden to preach or to solemnize marriages if they had not taken the oath.

The vagaries of South American justice ably illustrated by a story that comes from the Panama Star and Herald. Two prisoners Francisco Briones Gamboa and Victor Higuera, were implicated in a murder at Guari. The Guayaquil court, being unable to fix the relative guilt of either, passed the following sentence: "They shall draw lots, and the one favored by chance shall not be executed and shall have his sentence commuted to that of imprisonment for life, which sentence he shall serve in the prison of the capital of the republic, after being present at the execution of the other murderer.

'TWAS IN HER HAT.

Four of us—a young lady, a wealthy merchant, the company's horseshoer and myself, a government assayer and mineral expert—had left Santa Fe, N. M., on the S. F. & D. stage one scorching summer afternoon. It was now about 2 o'clock in the morning.

The full moon lighted our way, making the bushes and trees adjacent cast sharp, decided shadows across the road. I had changed places with the horseshoer on the roof, for the sake of a little more air.

Suddenly I saw something moving in the shadows ahead of us.

"What is that?" I asked.

The driver looked, his eyes rounding like the moon. "Nothing but a burro," he replied, referring to the pack mules that frequently strayed down the mountain side.

It disappeared quickly in the shade, and from thence, as if by magic, two men, the polished barrels of their rifles gleaming in the moonlight, sprang into the road.

The stoutest of the pair caught the bridles of the leaders; the other, covering us with his Winchester, roared:

"Stir a finger an' yer dead men!" Advancing closer, and keeping us within range of his muzzle, he shouted:

"Pitch out the treasure box, quick! We're in a hurry!"

The driver began to stammer a reply, but I stopped him with a muttered "Shut up! let me talk to these chaps. There is no treasure aboard to-night!"

I said this coolly, at the same time swaying my body to and fro to get out of the range of the muzzle; the man was evidently very determined as well as very near.

As I intended he should, he took me for the express messenger, and as neither driver nor messenger is supposed to possess any valuables they are seldom molested.

"None o' yer nonsense!" replied the bandit. "Hand out the treasure or ye'll see trouble, blast yer!"

The scoundrel at the reins, who held his rifle pointed at me from between the horses' heads, evidently enjoyed my endeavors to get out of range, for he squeaked in a high falsetto voice. "Does them bar'ls look big?"

"Yes," I said, echoing the old joke current among the miners.

"Yes, I can read all the advertisements on the wadding!"

He gave a hoarse chuckle. "Hy'ar, ky'ar; heave out ther specie box" roared the ruffian with the Winchester. I insisted there was none. "Here, look at the waybill; if there's any such thing aboard it will be among the items," and I made a motion to get down holding it in my hand.

"Stay where yer are, er I'll shoot yer damn head off!"

I threw him the waybill. He dropped his rifle, and, picking it up, looked it over in the moonlight. Profiting by this action I slipped my pocketbook into my boot.

"You see there's no mention made of the treasure, and if it was sent it would certainly be noticed on the bill. However, you can get up and look in the box and satisfy yourself."

He hesitated a moment, then climbed up, rifle in hand, and looked in the box.

"Naw," he growled, "thar's no treasure on this stage, but we've sworn ter have two hundred to-night, an' ef we don't fin' it in yer treasure box we mought fin' it in yer baggage. Who's inside?"

"Two men and a lady. None of them rich; one of them is the horseshoer, going to Denver to shoe the company's horses."

"We'll look at 'em. Whatever happens, don't yer move on yer life. We may find the cash on them or in the baggage."

The "insides" appeared to be sleeping. The man rattled the door and roused them. Leveling his rifle, he ordered them out to be searched. They obeyed, apparently half asleep.

He placed them in a row. "Hands up!" he said. "Now for your pockets!"

The horseshoer had but $2 in silver; the merchant's purse showed only a ten and a few small bills, and the young lady's nothing but her papers and a little change. The poor girl looked as if about to faint.

"You're a ornary crowd," he snarled, "an' I've a good mind to send yer all ter blazes this cussed night. Two hundred we've sworn to have, so we'll have ter rip up yer baggage."

This was uttered with infinite disgust. The merchant then spoke:

"You'll find nothing of any account in our baggage, but if you will ask this young lady for her hat, and can find the one thousand in bills she concealed in it just before leaving Santa Fe, I think you will certainly consider yourself repaid for your trouble."

The girl turned toward him with blazing eyes and uttered the word "traitor!"

There was no escape; the hat was taken possession of. After the lining had been carefully ripped out it was returned with a few gruff words of apology.

"In luck, by heavens!" cried the highwayman exultingly. "Pile in, all, an' be d—d ter yer. Sorry fur yer loss, miss, but we're boun' to take all we kin git. Drive on!"

"I want the waybill!" I said excitedly, for the scene I had just witnessed had raised my indignation to fever heat. He handed it to me, but it fluttered under the horses' feet, and I again demanded it.

He picked it up, climbed the wheel, and handed it to me. Then, turning to the young lady, he said gruffly:

"But fur this lining, young woman, ye might all ha' been lyin' in yonder ditch. No treasure aboard! Come this way agin 'thout it an' we'll settle yer accounts, blast yer! Now git!"

We gladly followed his advice, but could not find language strong enough to express our opinion of the merchant. The driver made the air fairly turid with his sulphurous profanity and the young lady answered all attempts of consolation with hysterical sobs.

The merchant alone appeared to retain his equanimity of temper.

Arrived at Denver, he begged very earnestly of the young lady, with me as her escort, to grant him a few moments for explanation in a private parlor. He pleaded so fervently that she gave a reluctant assent. He closed the door and bolted it, which looked a little strange.

"Don't be afraid," said he, as I felt for my revolver. Sitting down he pulled off his boot and from the toe took out a wad of bills. Said he:

"My poor child, let me make restitution. Here are $2,000 in bills for the $1,000 you lost," handing her two $1,000 bills. "Your lining was a godsend to me. If they had searched me further they would have secured $20,000 instead of $1,000."

"And besides, concealed in my baggage are diamonds and other precious stones, which, if they had secured, would have beggared me."

Taking a beautiful solitaire from his vest lining he presented that also to her. "I should have explained in the stage," he said, "but walls have ears, and why should I trust the others with my secrets?" —Boston Globe.

FOR THE TOILET

There is no more useful or elegant article than Ayer's Hair Vigor—the most popular and economical hair-dressing in the market. It causes the hair to grow abundantly and retain the beauty and texture of youth; prevents baldness, heals troublesome humors of the scalp and keeps it clean, cool, and healthy. Both ladies and gentlemen everywhere prefer Ayer's Hair Vigor to any other dressing for the hair. Mrs. Lydia O. E. Pittsworth, Moody, Me., writes: "I have used Ayer's Hair Vigor for some time, and it has worked wonders for me. I was troubled with dandruff and falling hair, so that I was rapidly becoming bald; but since using the Vigor, my head is perfectly clear of dandruff, the hair has ceased coming out, and I now have a good growth, of the same color as when I was a young woman. I can heartily recommend the use of Ayer's Hair Vigor to any one suffering from dandruff or loss of hair."

RETAIN YOUR SENSES

COULD YOU IF YOU WERE CONFINED IN AN ASYLUM?

Some Interesting Facts from a Prominent Scientific Man who Has Had a Most Valuable Experience.

(Chicago Journal.)

We sometimes see in the papers a thrilling account of where a perfectly sane person has been confined in an asylum. Think of it, reader! How long would you retain your senses if you were confined with a number of lunatics, night and day, and yet think of the physicians in charge of these patients who are compelled, day by day and year by year, to live among them. What wonderful opportunities they have for studying characteristics and vagaries; what a wonderful chance for learning the miseries of life and how best to overcome them.

We are brought to these reflections by a conversation lately had with Dr. J. C. Spray, of 163 State street, Chicago. For nearly ten years Doctor Spray was in charge of the Jefferson, now Dunning, Institute, at Dunning, Ill. This tremendous institution contained about twelve hundred patients in the insane department, and fifteen hundred in the infirmary. Among this large number of persons there were a vast number of physical ailments. Dr. Spray, speaking about it, said:

"I traced the great cause for the most of the mental and indeed physical disorders very carefully, and while some authorities make an estimate that seventy-five per cent. of the people of the United States are afflicted with some form of kidney disease, I do not think that the rate is so high, taking all ages into consideration. Before middle life it is less than seventy-five per cent., but after middle life it is, I should think, fully that percentage."

"This is something terrible, Doctor. Few people can certainly be aware that so large a percentage exists?"

The doctor thought a moment and then said: "It is a fact not generally recognized that where a person has diseased kidneys and the organs fail to perform their functions of removing the waste and the impurities from the system, it soon produces melancholia. As a result our asylums are filled to overflowing, while if the people would strike at the root of the matter and see that their kidneys are in good order, there would be fewer patients in the asylums. I have noticed that a large portion of all paresis cases had kidney difficulties."

"What have you found, Doctor, to be the standard and most reliable remedy in such cases?"

Dr. Spray spoke with great confidence. He said: "Having so many cases to treat, I tried various remedies, and after a long and exhaustive trial, finally decided that Warner's Safe Cure was the best, most effective and reliable remedy. I found it specially reliable in cases of incipient Bright's disease. It is certain to stop it, and even in the advanced conditions it allays the disease, and to my surprise at first, cured many cases. Before structural changes set in, it is certain to cure, if properly administered."

"Has your experience while at the asylum, Doctor, been confirmed in your general practice since leaving it?"

"Yes. I have occasion to use the Safe Cure almost daily. Whenever I find traces of albumen in the urine of a patient, I prescribe the Safe Cure, and in nearly every instance where I notice indications of nervous troubles, I analyze the urine, and almost invariably find that it is caused by some affection of the kidneys. I now have a patient to whom I am giving the Safe Cure, and find that it is having the desired effect. Some time ago a gentleman came to me, who had been examined for life insurance, and traces of albumen were found. I advised the use of the Safe Cure, and he passed the examination without difficulty after having used it."

"I understand, then, Doctor, that you attribute a large percentage of the ills of life to some disease of the kidneys, and that you have found the remedy of which you speak the most effective in such cases."

"Yes. I have no hesitation in saying that Warner's Safe Cure has my unqualified indorsement. I use it constantly, and would not do so unless I thought it possessed curative qualities."

The high standing, wide experience and great success of Dr. Spray make his words exceedingly impressive. Their sincerity cannot be questioned, and their truthfulness is absolute. Impressed with this fact, and realizing the importance of the same, I have transcribed his words in full and give them herewith.

THE WAY OF THE SLUGGARD

Interesting Sermon by Dr. Talmage.

Various Causes of Indolence and the Inevitable Results and Vice That Follow.

Brooklyn, N. Y., April 25.—Avoiding abstruse theological subjects, Dr. Talmage preached a sermon Sunday on a practical topic, giving shrewd commonsense lessons of inestimable value to his hearers, especially to the young people. His text was, Prov. xii. 27, "The slothful man roasteth not that which he took in hunting."

David, and Jeremiah, and Ezekiel, and Micah, and Solomon of the text showed that some time they had been out on a hunting expedition. Spears, lances, swords and nets were employed in this service. A deep pitfall would be digged. In the center of it there was some raised ground with a pole on which a lamb would be fastened, and the wild beast not seeing the pitfall, but only the lamb, would plunge for its prey and dash down, itself captured. Birds were caught in gins, or pierced with arrows. The hunters in olden time had two missions, one to clear the land of ferocious beasts and the other to obtain meat for themselves and their families. The occupation and habit of hunters are a favorite Bible simile. David said he was hunted by his enemy like a partridge upon the mountain. My text is a hunting scene.

A sportsman arrayed in a garb appropriate to the wild chase let slip the bloodthirsty hounds from their kennels, and mounting his fleet horse with a halloo and a yell of the greyhound pack, they are off and away, through brake and dell, over marsh and moor, across chasms where a misstep would hurl horse and rider to death, plunging into mire up to the haunches or into swift streams up to the bit, till the game is tracked by dripping foam and blood, and the antlers crack on the rocks, and the hunter has just time to be in at the death.

Yet, after all the haste and peril of the chase, my text represents this sportsman as being too indolent to dress the game and prepare it for food. He lets it lie in the dooryard of his home and become a portion of vermin and beasts of prey. Thus, by one master stroke, Solomon gives a picture of laziness, when he says, "The slothful man roasteth not that which he took in hunting." The most of hunters have the game they shot or entrapped cooked the same evening or the next day, but not so with this laggard of the text. Too lazy to rip off the hide. Too lazy to kindle the fire, and put the gridiron on the coals.

The first picture I ever bought was an engraving of Thorwaldsen's "Autumn." The clusters of grapes are ripe on the vine of the homestead, and the returned hounds, panting from the chase, are lying on the door sill, and the hunter is unshouldering the game, while the housewife is about to take a portion of it and prepare it for the evening meal. Unlike the person of the text, she was enough industrious to roast that which had been taken in hunting. But the world has had many a specimen since Solomon's time of those whose lassitude and improvidence and absurdity were depicted in my text. The most of those who have made a dead failure of life can look back and see a time when a great opportunity opened, but they did not know it.

They were not as wise as George Stephenson, "the father of railways," who, when at 16 years of age he received an appointment to work at a pumping engine for 12 shillings a week, cried out: "Now, I am a man for life." God gives to most men at least one good opportunity. A great Grecian general was met by a group of beggars, and he said to them: "If you want beasts to plow your land I will lend you some. If you want land I will give you some. If you want seed to sow your land I will see that you get it. But I will encourage none in idleness."

So, God gives to most people an opportunity of extrication from depressed circumstances. As if to create in us a hatred for indolence, God has made those animals which are sluggish to appear loathsome in our eyes, while those which are fleet and active he has clothed with attractiveness.

The tortoise, the sloth, the snail, the crocodile, repel us, while the deer and the gazelle are as pleasing as they are fleet, and from the swift wings of innumerable birds God has spared no purple or gold or jet or crimson or snowy whiteness.

Besides all this the Bible is constantly assaulting the vice of laziness. Solomon seems to order the idler out of his sight as being beyond all human instruction when he says: "Go to the ant, thou sluggard; consider her ways and be wise." And Paul seems to drive him up from his dining table before he gets through his first course of food with the assertion: "If any will not work, neither shall he eat."

Now, what are the causes of laziness and what are its evil results? I knew a man who was never up to time. It seemed impossible for him to meet an engagement. When he was to be married he missed the train. His watch seemed to take on the habits of its owner and was always too slow. He had a constitutional lethargy, for which he did not seem responsible.

So indolence often arises from the natural temperament. I do not know but that there is a constitutional tendency to this vice in every man. However active you may generally be, have you not on some warm spring day felt a touch of this feeling on you, although you may have shaken it off as you would a reptile? But some are so powerfully tempted to this by their bodily constitution that all the work of their life has been accomplished with this lethargy hanging on their back or treading on their heels. You sometimes behold it in childhood. The child moping and lounging within doors while his brothers and sisters are at play, or if he join them, he is behind in every race and beaten in every game.

His nerves, his muscles, his bones are smitten with this palsy. He vegetates rather than lives, creeps rather than walks, yawns rather than breathes. The animal in his nature is stronger than the intellectual. He is generally a great eater and active only when he cannot digest that which he has eaten. It requires as much effort for him to walk as for others to run. Langour and drowsiness are his natural inheritance. He is built for a slow-sailing vessel, a heavy hulk, and an insufficient cut-water. Place an active man in such a bodily structure, and the latter would be shaken to pieces in one day. Every law of physiology demands that he be supine.

Such a one is not responsible for this powerful tendency of his nature. His great duty is resistance. When I see a man fighting an unfortunate temperament, all my sympathies are aroused, and I think of Victor Hugo's account of a scene on a war ship, where, in the midst of a storm at sea, a great cannon got loose, and it was crashing this way and that and would have destroyed the ship; and the chief gunner, at the almost certain destruction of his own life, rushed at it with a handspike to thrust between the spokes of the wheel of the rolling cannon, and by a fortunate leverage arrested the gun till it could be lashed fast. But that struggle did not seem so disheartening as that man enters upon who attempts to fight his natural temperament, whether it be too fast or too slow, too nervous or too lymphatic. God help him, for God only can.

Furthermore, indolence is often a result of easy circumstances. Rough experience in earlier life seems to be necessary in order to make a man active and enterprising. Mountaineers are nearly always swarthy, and those who have toiled among mountains of trouble get the most nerve and muscle and brain. Those who have become the deliverers of nations once had not where to lay their heads. Locusts and wild honey have been the fare of many a John the Baptist, while those who have been fondled of fortune and petted and praised have often grown up lethargic.

They have none of that heroism which comes from fighting one's own battles. The warm summer sun of prosperity has weakened and relaxed them. Born among the luxuries of life, exertion has been unnecessary, and therefore, they spend their time in taking it easy. They may enter into business, but they are unfitted for its application, for its hardships, for its repulses, and after having lost the most of that which they have invested, go back to thorough inaction. This costly yacht may do well enough on the smooth, glassy bay, but cannot live an hour amid a chopped sea.

Another cause of indolence is severe discouragement. There are those around us who started life with the most sanguine expectation. Their enterprise excited the remark of all compeers. But some sudden and overwhelming misfortune met them, and henceforth they have been inactive. Trouble, instead of making them more determined, has overthrown them. They have lost all self-reliance.

They imagine that all men and all occurrences are against them. They hang their heads where once they walked upright. They become misanthropic and pronounce all men liars and scoundrels. They go melancholic and threadbare to their graves. You cannot rouse them to action by the most glittering offer. In most cases these persons have been honorable and upright all their lives, for rogues never get discouraged, as there is always some other plot they have not laid and some other trap they have not sprung.

There are but few sadder sights than a man of talent and tact and undoubted capacity giving up life as a failure, like a line of magnificent steamers rotting against wharves, from which they ought to have been carrying the exportations of a nation. Every great financial panic produces a large crop of such men. In the great establishments where they were partners in business, they are now weighers or draymen or clerks on small salary.

Reverie is also a cause of indolence. There are multitudes of men, who expect to achieve success in life, who are entirely unwilling to put forth any physical, moral or intellectual effort. They have a great many eloquent theories of life. They are all the while expecting something to turn up. They pass their life in dreaming. They have read in light literature how men suddenly and unexpectedly came to large estates, or found a pot of buried gold at the foot of the rainbow of Good Luck, or had some great offer made them. They have passed their lives in reverie.

Notwithstanding he is pinched with poverty, and any other man would be downcast at the forlorn prospect, he is always cheerful and sanguine and jovial, for he does not know but that he may be within a day or two of astounding success. You cannot help be entertained with his cheerfulness of temper. All the world wishes him well, for he never did anybody any harm. At last he dies in just the same condition in which he lived, sorrowful only because he must leave the world just at the time when his long-thought-of plans were about to be successful. Let no young man begin life with reverie.

There is nothing accomplished without hard work. Do not in idleness expect something to turn up. It will turn down. Indolence and wickedness always make bad luck. These people of reverie are always about to begin. They say: "Wait a little." So with the child who had a cage containing a beautiful canary, and the door of the cage was open and a cat was in the room. "Better shut the door of the cage," said the mother. "Wait a minute," said the boy. While he was waiting the feline creature, with one spring, took the canary. The way that many lose the opportunity of a lifetime is by the same principle. They say "Wait a minute." My advice is not to wait at all.

Again, bad habits are a fruitful source of indolence. Sinful indulgences shut a man's shop and dull his tools and steal his profits. Dissoluteness is generally the end of industry. There are those who have the rare faculty of devoting occasionally a day or a week to loose indulgences, and at the expiration of time go back with bleared eyes and tremulous hands and bloated cheeks to the faithful and successful performance of their duties.

Indeed, their employers and neighbors expect this amusement or occasional season of frolic and wassail. Some of the best workmen and most skilful artisans have this mode of conducting themselves, but as the time rolls on, the season of dissipation becomes more protracted and the season of steadiness and sobriety more limited, until the employers become disgusted and the man is given up to a continual and ruinous idleness.

When that point has arrived he rushes to destruction with astonishing velocity. When a man with wrong proclivities of appetite has nothing to do, no form of self-respect or moral restraint or the beseechings of kindred can save him. The only safety for a man who feels himself under the fascination of any form of temptation is an employment which affords neither recreation nor holiday. Nothing can be more unfortunate for a man of evil inclination than an occupation which keeps him exceedingly busy during a part of the year and leaves him for weeks and month entirely unemployed.

There are many men who cannot endure protracted leisure. They are like fractious steeds that must constantly be kept to the load, for a week's quiet makes them intractable and uncontrollable. Bad habits produce idleness and idleness produces bad habits. The probability is that you will either have to give up your loose indulgences or else give up your occupation.

Sin will take all enthusiasm out of your work, and make you sick of life's drudgery, and though now and then between your seasons of dissipation, you may rouse up to a sudden activity and start again in the chase of some high and noble end, even though you catch the game, you will sink back into stothfulness before you have roasted that which you took in hunting. Bad habits unfit man for everything but politics.

Now, what are the results of indolence? A marked consequence of this vice is physical disease. The healthiness of the whole natural world depends upon activity. The winds, tossed and driven in endless circuits, scattering the mist from the mountains, and scooping out death damps from the caves and blasting the miasma of swamps and hurling back the fetid atmosphere of great cities, are healthy, just because of their swiftness and uncontrollableness of sweep.

But, after awhile, the wind falls and the hot sun pours through it, and when the leaves are still and the grain fields bend once more all day long, then pestilence smites its victims and digs trenches for the dead. The fountain, born far up in the wild wood of the mountain, comes down brighter for every obstacle against which it is riven and singing a new song on every shelf of rock over which it bounds, till it rolls over the water wheels in the valley not ashamed to grind corn, and runs through the long grass of the meadow, where the willows reach down to dip their branches and the unyoked oxen come at eventide to cool.

Healthy water! Bright water! Happy water. While some stream, too lazy any more to run, gathers itself into a wayside pool, where the swine wallow and filthy insects hop over the surface, and reptiles crawl among the ooze and frogs utter their hideous croak, and by day and night there rises from the foul mire and green scum, fever, and plague, and death. There's an endless activity under foot and overhead.

Not one 4 o'clock in the flower bed, not one fly on the window pane, not one squirrel gathering food from the cones of the white pine, not one rabbit feeding on clover tops, not one drop falling in a shower, not one minnow glancing in the sea, not one quail whistling from the grass, not one hawk cawing in the sky, but is busy now and is busy always, fulfilling its mission as certainly as any monarch on earth or any angel in heaven. You hear the shout of the plowboys busy in the field and the rattle of the whiffletrees on the harrow, but you do not know that there is more industry in the earth upturned and in the dumb vegetation under foo than in all that you see. If you put your ear to a lump of riven sod you may hear nothing in the roots and the spiculae of grass, but there are at work spades and cleavers and pile drivers and battering rams and internecine wars.

I do not wonder that the lively fancy of the ancients saw in the inanimate creation around Floras Fauns and Fairies and Satyrs and Nymphs. Everything is busy. Nothing is inanimate, except the man who cannot see the life and hear the music. At the creation the morning stars sang together, but they were only the choir which was to lead all the stars and all the mountains and all the seas in God's worship.

All natural objects seem at one and the same time uniting in work and joy and worship. In God's creation there is no pause in either the worship or the work or the joy. Amid all natural objects at one and the same time it is Halloween and Whit Sunday and Ash Wednesday and All Saints' day. All the healthy beauty of that which we see and hear in the natural world is dependent upon activity and unrest. Men will be healthy—intellectually, morally, and physically—only upon the condition of an active industry. I know men die every day of overwork. They drop down in coal pits and among the spindles of Northern factories and on the cotton plantations of the south. In every city and town and village you find men groaning under burdens, as, in the east, the camels stagger under their loads between Aleppo and Damascus. Life is crushed out every day at counters and work benches and anvils. But there are other multitudes who die from mere inertia. Indulgences every day are contracting diseases beyond the catholicon of allopathy and homeopathy and hydropathy and electricism. Rather than work they rush upon lancets and scalpels.

Nature has provided for those who violate her laws by inactivity, what rheum for the eyes and what gout for the feet and what curvature for the spine and what strictures for the chest, and what tubercles for the lungs and what rheumatism for the muscles, and what neuralgias for the nerves. Nature in time arraigns every such culprit at her bar, and presents against him an indictment of one hundred counts, and convicts him on each one of them. The laws of nature will not stop their action because men may be ignorant of them. Disease, when it comes to do its work, does not ask whether you understand hygiene, or pathology, or materia medica.

If there were not so many lies written on tombstones and in obituaries, you would see what multitudes of the world's inhabitant's are slain in their attempts to escape the necessity of toil. Men cross oceans and continents, and climb the Alps, and sit under the sky of Italy or the shadow of Egyptian Pyramid, and go down into ancient ruins, and bathe at Baden Baden, and come home wit hthe same poor digestion and the same twitching of the nerves, when at home with their own spade they might have dug health out of the ground, or with their own ax hewn health out of a log, or with their own scythe garnered health from the grain field. There are many who estimate the respectability of an occupation by the little exertion it demands, and would not have their children enter any employment where their hands may be soiled, forgetting that a laborer's overalls are just as honorable as a priest's robes and an anvil is just as respectable as a pulpit. Health flies from the bed of down and says: "I cannot sleep here;" and from the table spread with ptarmigan and epicurean vivands, saying: "I cannot eat here;" and from the vehicle of soft cushions and easy springs, saying: "I cannot ride here;" and from houses luxuriously warmed and upholstered, saying: "I cannot live here;" and some day you meet Health, who declined all these luxuriant places, walking in the plow's furrow or sweltering beside the hissing forge or spinning among the looms or driving a dray or tinning a roof or carrying hods of brick up the ladder of a wall.

Furthermore, notice that indolence endangers the soul. Satan makes his chief conquests over men who neither have nothing to do, or, if they have, refuse to do it. There is a legend that St. Thomas, years after Christ's resurrection, began again to doubt, and he went to the Apostles and told them about his doubts. Each Apostle looked at him with surprise, and then said he must be excused for he had no time to listen any longer.

Then St. Thomas went to the devout women. They said they were sorry, but they had no time to listen. Then St. Thomas concluded that it was because they were busy that the Apostles and the devout women had no doubts. Idleness wontonly leads a man into associations which harm his morals, but often thrusts upon him the worst kind of skepticism. Loafers are almost infidels, or are fast getting to be. Consummate idlers never read the Bible and, if they appear in church, can be distinguished in any audience of a thousand by their listlessness, for they are too lazy to hear.

It is not so among occupied merchants, industrial mechanics and professional men always busy that you hear the religion of Jesus mingled, as in public lounging places given up to profanity and dissoluteness. They have no sympathy with the book that says: "Let him that stole, steal no more, but rather let him labor, working with his hands the thing which is good, that he may have to give to him that needeth." I never knew a man given up to thorough idleness that was converted. Simon and Andrew were converted while fishing, and Lydia while selling purple, and the shepherds of Bethlehem watching their flocks heard the voices of angels, and Gideon was threshing on the threshing floor, but no one was ever converted with his hands in his pockets. Let me tell the idler that there is no hope for him either in this world or in the world which is to come. If the Son of God, who owned the whole universe, worked in the carpenter shop of Joseph, surely we, who own so little, yet want so much, ought to be busy. The redeemed in heaven are never idle. What exciting songs they sing!

On what messages of love they fly through all the universe, fulfilling God's high behests and taking worlds in one circuit, rushing with infinite fierceness against sin and cruelty and oppression, and making the gates of hell to quake at the overthrow of principalities of darkness, and in the same twinkle of an eye speeding back to their thrones with the news of sinners repentant. The River of Life is ever flowing, and the palms ever waving, and the hallelujahs ever rising, and the harps ever sounding, and the temple always open, and the golden streets always arush with chariots of salvation, and the last place which you ought ever to want to go is heaven unless you want to be busy.

Alas, my hearers, that in this world there should be so many loungers and so few workers. We go into the vineyard of the church, and we hear the arbor groan under the heft of the vines and the clusters hanging down, large, and thick, and ripe, cluster against cluster, fairer than the bunches of Eshcol and Engedi, and at a touch they will turn into wine, more ruddy than that of Libanns and Helbon.

But, where are the men to gather the vintage and tread the wine press? There comes to your ear the sound of a thousand wheat fields ready for the sickle. The grain is ready. It is tall, it is full, it is golden. It waves in the sunlight. It rustles in the wind. It would fill the barns. It would crowd the garners. After the rust will smite it. Oh, where are the reapers to bind the sheaves? The enemies of God are marshaled. You see the glitter of their bucklers. You hear the pawing of their chargers, and all along the line of battle is heard the shout of their great captain, and at the armies of the living God they hurl their defiance.

They come, not in numbers like the hosts of Sennacherib, but their multitude is like the leaves of the forest, and the sound of their voices like thunder of the sea. Mailed in hell's impenetrable armor, they advance with the waving of their banners and the dancing of their plumes. Their ranks are not easily to be broken, for the batteries of hell will open to help them and ten thousand angels of darkness mingle in the fight. Where are the chosen few, who will throw themselves into the jaws of this conflict?

King James gave to Sir John Scott, for his courage, a charter of arms with a number of spears for the crest and the motto, "Ready! aye, ready!" and, yet, when God calls us to the work and the cause demands our espousal and interests dreadful as the judgment and solemn as eternity tremble in the balance, how few of us are willing to throw ourselves in the breach, crying, "Ready, aye, ready." Oh, I should like to see God arise for the defense of his own cause and the disenthrallment of a world in bondage. How the fetters would snap and how darkness would fly, and how heaven would sing. You have never seen an army like that which God shall gather from the four winds of heaven to fight his battles. They shall cover every hilltop and stretch through every valley, and man the vessels on every sea. There shall neither be uproar, nor wrath, nor smoke, nor bloodshed.

Harvests shall not lie waste in the track, nor cities be consumed. Instead of the groans of captives shall come the songs of those redeemed. Yet the conquest shall be none the less complete, for, if in that hour when all should be vigilant, the Church of God should neglect to seize the prize and the cause should seem to fail, from the graveyards and cemeteries of all Christendom the good and faithful of the past would spring to their feet in time to save the cause, and though the sun might not again stand still above Gideon, or the moon in the valley of Ajalon, the day would be long enough to gain a decisive victory for God and the truth.

But, my text is descriptive also of those who hunt for opportunities, and, when they get them, do not use them. The rabbit they overcome by an early morning tramp lies for weeks uncooked in the dooryard. The deer that they brought down after long and exhausting pursuit in the Adirondacks, lies on their doorsill undressed, and the savory venison becomes a malodorous carcass. They roast not that which they took in hunting. Opportunities laboriously captured, yet useless, and that which came in invitingly like a string of plover and quail and wild duck hung over a hunter's shoulder turns to something worse than nothing. So with Agrippa when almost persuaded to be a Christian. So with the lovely young man who went away from Christ very sorrowful. So with tens of thousands who have whole hands full, whole skies full of winged opportunities which profit them nothing at all, because they roast not that which they took in hunting. Oh, make out of this captured moment a banquet for eternity. The greatest prize in the universe to be won is the love and pardon of Christ. Win that and you can say:

Now I have found a friend
Whose love shall never end,
Jesus is mine!

A popular Bordeaux wine merchant, whom we may call Mr. Boulanger for convenience, has been sued by fourteen of his customers for selling them adulterated goods. M. Boulanger was able, by the judicious use of white of egg, to impart to a bogus Chartreuse "that delicious oleaginous quality" by which experts are wont to test it. It is a question whether the Benedictine makers of New York are as skillful as this.

MARKETS OF A WORLD

A More Steady Trade is Reported.

Foreign Prices Closed a Little Higher.

Chicago Corn an Element of Uncertainty—Wheat in Farmers' Hands—Prospects for the Future.

Mr. Homer Baldwin, of Youngstown, O., writes as follows: "As to amount back in farmers' hands I think there is serious error. I believe the crop was largely overestimated and the amount remaining unsold no more than average. I paid an even dollar for best wheat from August 15 to March 1, and only got 60 per cent of the average in previous years. The prospect for the growing wheat is not bright."

Figures on available wheat show a loss in a week of 4,232,000 bushels and of corn, 3,186,000 bushels.

Toledo millers are resorting to Duluth for wheat. The whole wheat deal seems more than usually tangled.

American wheat markets have been very firm to-day, with exception of one little upward spurt. Prices have been very steady.

Mr. Baldwin's letter herein echoes a sentiment now increasing daily that farmers' stocks are less than previous estimates.

The demand daily for winter wheat, at 10c bu above Chicago spring, and receipts day after day less than on corresponding days in 1891, with millers' stocks here and elsewhere very light and good demand for flour are indications which point strongly to the growing conclusion that farmers are not loaded down with wheat.

Markets abroad opened firmer. Domestic receipts are lighter, and the outward movement is fair. A feature in New York is a decline of 1 3-4c on April wheat, while all the longer futures were firmer.

It looks rather plain to us, that if the market at Chicago was left to natural elements the price there would advance.

Corn has shown some uneasiness, and a desire to step out from the control of the alleged clique, and do business on its merits. It has been lower, but recovered the loss and a little more.

Foreign markets closed a little higher. In New York May wheat closed unchanged after being higher. July 3-8c higher. May corn 3-8c, and July 1-2c higher. May oats 1-8c lower.

In Chicago May wheat sold up to 81 5-8c, and closed steady at 81 1-4c. July sold up to 81 5-8c, and closed at 81 1-4c. May corn closed 1-8c and July 1-4c higher. May oats 3-8c lower.

In Toledo—The business in wheat is dull without a precedent. There is but little disposition to trade in futures, and opinions as to the best side of the deal, to take, are quite unsettled. As much may be said on one side as the other. The market has been firm and the fluctuations quite narrow, 1-4c lower for May, 1-8c lower for July and 1-8c up on August. May sold at 91 3-4c to 91 7-8c and closed at 91 3-4c. July sold at 85c to 85 1-4c and closed at 85c bid. August sold at 84c to 84 1-4c and closed at 84c bid. Cash wheat was in good request. No. 2 sold and closed at 92c. Yesterday there was sold in seaboard markets about 50,000 bushels of all grades No. 3 at 89c.

Corn—No. 2 at 41c, No. 3 at 40 1-2c, No. 3 yellow at 41c.

Oats—No. 3 at 28 1-2c.

Clover seed—No change; small sales at $6 50 for prime.

The receipts of wheat to-day at Minneapolis and Duluth are 284,874 bu and at five other western points 97,123 bu. On corresponding Tuesday in 1891 the receipts at these five points were 129,191 bu.

The export clearances yesterday at four Atlantic ports were wheat 304,601 bu and flour to an aggregate of 50,000 bu. Exports of corn 371,894 bu and of oats 51,712 bu.

New York Close.

New York, April 26.—Money loaned easy at 1 1-2@2 per cent. Exchange steady; posted rates $4.88@4.89 1-2; actual rates $4.87 1-4 for 60 days and $4.88 1-2@4.88 3-4 for demand.

Government steady; currency 6s 109 bid; 4s coup 115 3-4 bid; extended 2s registered 100 bid.

Stocks were almost stagnant during the morning. The business was the smallest in months, sales being only 69,500 shares. Reading, New England, Hocking Valley, Northern Pacific preferred, Atchison and Sugar Trust were the only stocks traded in. Notwithstanding the extreme dullness the market was firm and prices at noon were 1-8 to 1 per cent. higher than yesterday's, the latter on Hocking Valley. The Sugar Trust was a weak feature, declining from 95 1-4 to 93 5-8. At this writing the market is dull.

British Grain Trade.

London, April 26.—The Mark Lane Express, in its weekly review of the British grain trade, says: English wheats are dull; prices have declined 11d during the past fortnight. Foreign wheats are steady. The stocks now held at 15 great ports amount to 2,951,000 quarters. The outlook for the holders of these stocks is serious, as little buying is looked for until the middle of May. English flour is dull at 29s. Minnesota flour is active at 25s. Corn is firmer. Barley, oats and beans are cheaper. At to-day's market little English wheat was sold; the quotations ranged from 30@34s. There was no demand for foreign wheats. Only California advanced, the rise being 6d. American spring was cheaper. Barley was cheaper; oats advanced 1s; flat corn was 6d dearer.

A CLOSE MOUTH.

"Your son Tom is not looking well."

"No; poor fellow, he lost twenty-five pounds since he accepted a position in the elevated railroad."

"Does he have to work so hard?"

"It's not the work that is making him thin."

"What is it, then?"

"Well, you know, whenever an accident occurs he has to keep his mouth shut or he will lose his position."—Texas Siftings.

WHAT IS THE CAUSE

A Large Amount of Sickness in Toledo.

Similar Reports From All Over the State.

A Feeling of Weakness an Alarming Symptom.

Physicians Recommend a Strength Giver.

The Nerves and Brain Must be Nourished and Fed.

The latest report of the state board of health shows an alarming increase in nervous diseases.

Interviews with leading physicians and druggists confirm the report of an unusually large amount of sickness, notably diseases of the nervous system and troubles which have their origin in an impoverished and impure condition of the blood.

In cities and towns of this and neighboring states there is generally a like condition of affairs. People are weak and weary, feverish and sleepless, with periodic headache and dimness of vision. These are dangerous symptoms. Yet with proper knowledge and care they can be overcome, and strength and health restored.

In an interview with a well-known and conservative physician of this city, he stated: "The one remedy physicians rely upon for strengthening the nerves and purifying the blood, is Paine's celery compound. This compound is the discovery of Prof. Edward E. Phelps, M. D., LL.D., of Dartmouth College.

"It is having a remarkable sale here in town, on physicians' prescriptions and the calls of the general public. Its formula commended it from the first, combining, as it does, such standard remedies as celery, sarsaparilla, buchu, coca, cascara sagrada, and others of valuable yet harmless character. The pharmacists who prepare it invite correspondence from physicians, and furnish the formula to all reputable members of the profession.

"I cannot commend it too highly at this season, when a strengthener or healthgiver is absolutely demanded by the majority of people. Physicians are glad to recommend this compound in place of the bitters, sarsaparillas and nervines so largely advertised, whose formula is always a secret."

He remarked in conclusion: "This Paine's celery compound is the one prepared article that you will find the best men in my profession ordering at the drug stores with the same frankness that we advise our patients to get it for themselves."

The worst cases of salt rheum have been cured by this compound.

Diseases of the blood and skin yield to its curative power.

In nervous prostration, sleeplessness, headache, and digestive troubles, there is nothing that so surely cures as Paine's celery compound.

In this month, when the seasons are changing, a pure food for brain and nerves is an absolute necessity. And this compound is the only one obtainable to-day.

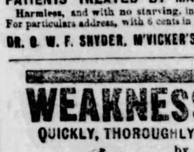
WEAKNESS OF MEN
QUICKLY, THOROUGHLY, FOREVER CURED



by a new perfected scientific method that cannot fail unless the case is beyond human aid. You feel improved the first day, feel a benefit every day; soon know yourself a king among men in body, mind and heart. Drains and losses ended. Every obstacle to happy married life removed. Nerve force, will energy, brain power, when failing or lost are restored by this treatment. All small and weak portions of the body enlarged and strengthened.
Victims of abuses and excesses, reclaim your manhood! Sufferers from folly, overwork, early errors, ill health, regain your vigor! Don't despair, even if in the last stages. Don't be disheartened if quacks have robbed you. Let us show you that medical science and business honor still exist; here go hand in hand. Write for our book with endorsations and proofs. Sent sealed, free. Over 2,000 references.

Every now and then a song writer dies or brings a copyright suit in court, and the world remembers about his existence. It seems strange that we know so little of hymn-writers. The death of a young Palmer, near New Haven, some days ago, reminds hymnologists that the Rev. Ray Palmer, of New Orleans, has written some of the most beautiful American hymns. Heber and Cowper produced hymns of a high order of literary excellence, but the general lack of that quality must be admitted, however unwillingly, in most of the verse printed in contemporary hymn-books. Dr. Robert Lowry, of Plainfield, N. J., wrote "My Faith Looks Up to Thee," and Fanny Crosby "Pass Me Not, Oh Gentle Savior."

The walls of the Fleet of Newgate as well as of the Tombs and of Ludlow Street Jail show that prisoners delight in verse-writing. Birchell scribbled some poor lines on the door of his Canadian cell. Eugene Aram, a real character, as well as a hero of fiction, on the morning preceding his execution wrote this:

The Electric Refining Co., City:
Gentlemen—I have been using your Frictionless Axle Oil on my heavy trucks for some time, and I do not hesitate to recommend it to any one having use for anything of this kind. Have used axle grease of all kinds, also castor oil and other axle oils, but am satisfied that your oil is more economical and far superior to anything in the market, either for buggies or heavy wagons.
Yours truly,
